BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION

Of Centre and Clinton Counties Held Meeting At

LOCK HAVEN THURSDAY

To Complete Arrangements for the Big Picnic on August 18—Three Games of Base Ball.

OTHER AMUSEMENTS TO BE PROVIDED

The second meeting of the Centre—Clinton Business Men's Picnic Association was held on Thursday at 4:30 p. m. at the Irvin House in Lock Haven and it proved to be one of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held by the Association, all of which augers well for the success of the big Inter-County picnic at Hecla Park on Tuesday August 18th.

The Centre County delegation left on the 2:20 train over the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania and on reaching Mill Hall took the trolley for Lock Haven and were met at the Irvin House by the members from Clinton County. The meeting was held in the hotel parlors and was called to order by President T. J. Smull of Mackeyville. This was Mr. Smull's first attempt as a presiding officer and he filled the bill in a very able manner.

Secretary J. C. Meyer read the minutes of the previous meeting of the Finance committee. The finance committee have $600 to spend for various amusements.

The Management committee reported that the grounds would be put in excellent shape for Business Men's Day. A large number of new park seats will be placed around the lake and between the trees in the woods. They will also increase the number of swings for the amusement of the children.

Chairman Sourbeck of the amusement committee reported that the amusements would consist of three ball games between clubs of the Centre—Clinton Base Ball League. Mr. Krumrine read a letter from the President of the League agreeing to the proposition. The clubs that compose the League and who will play championship games on Business Men's Day are Snow Shoe, Woolrich, Howard, Orvis. Beech Creek and Mill Hall.

There will also be a Clay Pigeon Shoot in addition to other attractions to be decided on later.

Chairman McNaul of the closing committee reported that the stores in Lock would hardly close on Business Men's Day but that the people would be at the picnic just the same. The stores in Bellefonte and State College will likely be closed all day.

Chairman Harris of the music committee reported that they had engaged the Repaz band, of Williamsport, to furnish music during the day. They have not fully decided on the orchestra.

Harry Stevenson, of Lock Haven, was elected a member of the association to fill a vacancy among the Clinton county members.

Mr. Warfield of the Central Railroad Company stated that they would have 25 cars to carry the people on the big day, thus assuring accommodations to and from the Park.

In view of the loss Clinton County has suffered in the destruction by fire of their hospital, Mr. Meyer offered the following resolution:

"We have learned with regret of the loss that has befallen the citizens of Lock Haven and of the County of Clinton in the destruction by fire of their splendid hospital and we take this method of expressing our sympathy and the hope that the spirit and courage of the people of Clinton county will again be manifest in the re-building of another splendid institution of that character." The resolution was unanimously adopted.

It was learned that the nurses had lost all their belongings by fire while successfully removing the patients from the hospital. A fund has been started in Lock Haven for their benefit, Mr. Sourbeck moved that each Centre County member of the Business Men's Picnic Association give a dollar toward this fund. The motion went through with a rush and all came down with a wagon wheel; Then the Clinton County members decided to come in this deal and each gave a dollar. M. D. Kelly, of Snow Shoe, very generously gave $5.00 to the fund. The money was turned over to Mayor W. H. Stevenson of Lock Haven, and amounted to $51.00

The management committee then decided to give $25.00 out of the proceeds of the picnic to the same fund.

Mayor Stevenson very gracefully thanked the members from Centre and also from Clinton for their generous action.

This closed up the business before the association and the members adjourned to the dining room where they enjoyed a delightful supper, elegantly prepared and splendidly served.

The Centre County members then left for home feeling that the picnic this year will be the greatest in the history of the association.

The members present were as follows: J. C. Meyer, J. Will Conley, D. G. Stewart, John Bullock, A. C. Mingle, H. P. Harris, John Sourbeck, John I. Orewine, Robert Cole, Harry Otto, Sidney Krumrine, Frank Warfield, E. C. Tuten of Bellefonte; Philip D. Foster, State College; W. Gross Mingle, Centre Hall; D. H. Stoner, of Mill Hall; T. J. Smull, Mackeyville; Joel A. Herr, Cedar Spring; M D. Kelley, Show Shoe; Philip S. Kift, D. I. McNaul, George McDonald, Mayor W. H. Stevenson, A. L. Merrill, C F. Brown, G. W. Fredericks, F. E. Harder, P. P. Rittman, A. C. Candor, H. A. Stevenson, of Lock Haven; Hayes Stuart, Island; John P. Thompson of Salona.

The press of Clinton county was represented as follows: D. J. McNaul, Democrat; U. A. Xander, Express.

THE LOCK HAVEN HOSPITAL.

Steps are Already Being Taken for the Erection of a New Building.

Scarcely had the flames which on Tuesday burned the Lock Haven hospital finished their work before active steps were being taken to at once replace the loss with another structure that would surpass in size and usefulness the one so recently destroyed. Already many plans for raising the needed funds are under way. Individuals and committees are at work and their plea for aid is meeting with instant success. Many ways of raising funds for the hospital are being suggested and some of them are being used, and it is evident that the people of Lock Haven and Clinton county will soon begin the work of building a hospital to take the place of the one burned.

The Lock Haven Express has started a popular subscription with $25 and contributions will be received for this fund in any amount, large or small.

There is a proposition of foot to have 100 men give $100 each and this is meeting with considerable favor. Over three thousand dollars had been collected by the ladies' committee up to noon Thursday and they stated that there are many men who were willing to subscribe $100

Many benefits are already planned for the hospital fund. On Thursday night the Pastime theatre gave a benefit show and tonight (Friday) the Lyric and Family theatres will donate the receipts to the hospital fund.

Renovo has felt the shock of the burning of the hospital as deeply as have the people of Lock Haven and numerous schemes for financial aid are already under way. The people of that thriving up-river town are talking of postponing the Old Home Week celebration and devote the funds already collected and to be collected toward rebuilding the Lock Haven hospital. The matter will be taken up at the next meeting of the executive committe, and it is believed that there will not be much opposition to the proposition.

The money derived from some of the benefits will be used to purchase clothing for the nurses who lost everything but the clothing they had on at the time of the fire.

Negotiations have been closed for the use of the Judge Mayer residence on West Water street to be used as a temporary hospital. The residence is occupied by K. D. Batcheler and he will vacate as soon as the house that has been provided for him can be gotten in shape.

—Harry Dennis, who lives on the Nancy Smith farm about a mile from Clintondale, was painfully injured on Saturday afternoon by being trampled and bumped by a vicious two-year-old hornless bull, which he had led into the barn and was tying. He was badly bruised and cut but no bones broken.

DALE FAMILY REUNION

Was Held at Oak Hall on Saturday, August First

A LARGE ATTENDANCE

Addresses and Historical Sketches Were Interesting and Instructive—Memorial Service for Deceased Members

A SUMPTUOUS DINNER WAS GIVEN

One of the most interesting and instructive reunions that has been held for many a day was that of the gathering of the Dale family and their friends at Oak Hall, this county, on August 1, 1908. The day had been looked forward to with eager expectations by all interested and promptly at 10 o'clock conveyances could be seen coming in all directions bringing friends and relatives of those interested in making the social gathering a grand success. At the hour appointed George Dale, president of the association called the meeting to order. The Chaplain Rev. W. H. Dale, of Pittsburg, invoked the divine blessing. A well selected choir rendered several selections. A. A. Dale, esq. extended a hearty welcome to all, to participate in the enjoyments of the day. The address of welcome was responded to by Hon. Leonard Rhone of Centre Hall, who spoke of the part the Dale family had taken in making up the history of Centre county.

Clement Dale, esq. the historian of the association read an interesting paper beginning with the landing of Christian Dale, the first in America in 1749, tracing the different members of the Dale family through the first, second and third generations, all of whom have passed away. He closed his address by referring to the schools, churches and customs of the people in an early day, as gathered from the records and traditions. After the reading of this paper the dinner hour was announced and the gathering repaired to a grove near by where a most sumptuous repast was prepared, where relatives, neighbors and friends partook of the many good things that had been prepared for the occasion. Almost two hours were passed in thus replenishing the inner man and in social converse, after which the gathering reconvened in the commodious Grange Hall where all the sessions were held.

Arthur C. Dale read an interesting paper on the Dale families in the west which had been prepared and sent by Mrs. Maggie Clipfell of Wahpeton, S. Dakota and Edward Dale of S. Dakota. Edwin Dale of Hartleton read a well prepared paper on the Dales of Union county.

Earl Musser, a decendant of the Dales and a recent graduate of the Susquehanna University spoke on the benefits of social reunions and the necessity of preserving the information derived at these gatherings. The little folks were not forgotten and well selected recitations were rendered by Norman Dale, Edwin Dale, Rosetta Dale and Lewella Dale.

Three members of the association died within the past year. They were Dr. J. Y. Dale of Lemont, Mrs. Helena M. Dale, wife of Geo, Dale of Dales Summit and Hannah J. Dale, wife of Geo. Dale of Lansing, Mich.

It was though proper to have a suitable memorial service in memory of those who have passed away. A committee on resolutions was appointed which reported through its chairman a sketch of the lives of those who had died. Dr. W. A. Buckout of the State College, a warm personal friend of Dr. Dale sent a beautiful tribute to his late friend. Mr. and Mrs. D. L. White of Michigan sent a sketch of of the life of Hannah J. Dale, of Lansing, that state, and a sketch of the life of Helena Dale was prepared by the committee. Appropriate resolutions were adopted, after which Rev. J. I. Stonecypher of Boalsburg and Rev. W. H. Dale made suitable and impressive remarks on the life and character of the deceased.

John S. Dale was elected as secretary to take the place of Dr. J. Y. Dale deceased. The other officers were all re-elected, After the short business session the association adjourned each one voting it the most successful reunion they had ever attended. It may not be amiss to say that the reunion was held on the seventy seventh birth day of the president, George Dale.

The oldest person in attendance of the Dale decendents was Mrs. Susanna Musser (formerly Dale) who is eighty one years old. Another aged person present was Mrs. Margaret Keller a relative of the Dale family, who is eighty four years old. The next reunion will be held on the first Saturday of August 1909.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Editor Dunham of Howard, Celebrated Twenty-fifth Year of Married Life

The home of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Dunham at Howard was the scene of a pretty social event Saturday when a number of their friends gathered there to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. The guests assembled about the noon hour and when a representative of this paper arrived in the afternoon at two o'clock he found the dining room in readiness for the festal occasion of the celebration. Sitting around this well spread table were friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Dunham from Howard and from distant points. The dinner provided for guests was typical of the culinary ability of Mrs. Dunham and her sister Mrs. Weirick and was partaken of with much pleasure to the guests. The day was very pleasantly spent in conversation and occasional diversions and it was a pleasure to have been present on this occasion.

On August first, 1883 twenty-five years previous to this occasion Mr. Dunham led to the altar Miss Clara K. Neff, daughter of William H. and Margaret Neff of Howard, and since that time they have enjoyed a happy married life. Since their marriage they have resided mostly in Howard with the exception of the few years they lived in Bellefonte. One son and one daughter were born to Mr. and Mrs. Dunham, but early in life they were called away. An adopted daughter now graces the home and is the delight of Mr. and Mrs. Dunham in their home life.

By dint of his hard work and staying qualities Mr. Dunham has enjoyed a measure of success and is ranked with Howard's business men. By prudent business methods he has provided himself with a cozy home and a well established business. He is now serviving a term as burgess of the borough and is foremost in the modern improvements that have been made to the town.

The guests present at the silver wedding celebration were: W. H. Neff, W. N. Neff, Mr. and Mrs. Ira C. Johnson, Mrs. Edward Neff, and two sons, Vernon and Harold, of Chicago; Mrs. Nellie Reitz, of Niagara Falls; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Weirick, Mrs. Z. T. Weirick and daughters, Sarah and Mary, Miss Eva Neff and Miss Genevive Fletcher. Before departing for their homes the guests wished Mr. and Mrs. Dunham many more years of happy married life.

Ball Players Kidnapped the Baby

Freeland, July 29.—The chubby baby boy of Mrs. Andrew Solenski was kidnapped this afternoon by a crowd of baseball players and held as a hostage until the woman gave up the ball which was batted into her yard during the progress of a game, but which she at first persistently refused to return to the players.

During the afternoon two local ball teams engaged in a battle royal on the diamond, during which the only ball in possession of the two teams was driven over a fence and landed in the Solenski yard. Mrs Solenski took possession of the ball and could neither be threatened nor cajoled into returning the much desired sphere.

No decision could be reached satisfactory to the team without the ball and reluctantly members of the visiting team began to leave the field, when suddenly from the yard of the Solenski home a young man darted bearing in his arms the Solenski baby, which he had picked from the lawn. To the woods he sped and was far out of sight before Mrs. Solenski discovered that her little boy was gone.

Special Officer Welsh, who was first on the ground, took in the situation and opened negotiations for an adjustment. No one wkew where the baby had been taken apparently, but by a ruse on the part of the officer the baseball was first secured in the exchange.

While the mother and father were excitedly scouring the woods a carefully wrapped bundle was deposited on the Solenski lawn which proved to be the missing baby. The interrupted baseball contest on the diamond will be finished tomorrow.

FOREST FIRE DAMAGES

Elements Sweep a Vast Area of British Columbia

MANY LIVES ARE LOST

The fire is now Raging in Sparsely Settled Country and it is Thonght the Worst Danger is Over

AN APPROXIMATE OF THE FIRE LOSS

Terrible destructive forest fires have swept through the Crows Nest district of British Columbia since last Saturday, devastating a vast stretch of territory, destroying many lives and millions of property, wiping out entire towns and rendering thousands homeless. The flames are still razing but are now sweeping a wild and sparsely settled country, and it is believed that the worst is over. The flames are burning over the vast area of the mountain sides and it is thought they will burn themselves out for lack of something to destroy. The area now burned is more than fifty miles in length and three miles wide.

A careful summary of the results of the fires has been prepared which is believed to be a conservative estimate as to loss of life and property destroyed. It is as follows.

Town of Fernie, about 5,000 inhabitants, practically wiped out; loss of 20 lives and $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 in property. Insurance about 50 per cent.

Town of Hosmer, about 800 inhabitants, partially burned, with loss of one life and $250,000 in property. Three hundred persons homeless.

Town of Michel, believed to be seriously burned, but four persons reported killed and property destroyed in the vicinity estimated at $1,000,000. Details unobtainable owing to lack of communication.

Town of Sparwood, saw mill village; two killed and large mills destroyed. Damage estimated at $250,000. Damage to standing timber throughout the burned area estimated at from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

It has not been determined how the fire started, whether through carelessness or design. But once it had gained headway it swept with almost incredible speed.

Curry—Cook.

The home of Mr. and Mrs Charles F. Cook on Spring street was the scene of a pretty but quiet wedding Tuesday forenoon. The contracting parties were Mr. Ben R. Currey, of Beaver, Pa., and Miss Nettie Jane Cook. Rev. J. Allison Platts, pastor of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church, said the words that made them man and wife, and the beautiful ring ceremony was used. The wedding took place promptly at eleven o'clock and was witnessed by only the members of the family and several intimate friends of the bride and groom. Both bride and groom were unattended. Following the ceremony a dainty wedding dinner was served and the couple departed on the one o'clock train on a western trip.

The bride is one of Bellefonte's fair daughters with many accomplishments and has the best wishes of her host of friends. The groom is a prominent young man of Beaver and is a chemist at the plant of the Jones and Laughlin Steel company in that place. Upon their return from their wedding tour they will take up their residence in Beaver.

Miss Laura Harrison, of Jersey Shore, a schoolmate of the bride, and Burt Dean, an intimate friend of the groom, were the only out-of-town guests.

Co. E. Anniversary Picnic.

The 47th anniversary of Company E, 45th Regiment Pa. V. V. will be observed on Saturday, August 8, with a reunion and picnic to be held at Baileyville. General Beaver and other speakers will be present to address the veterans. Base ball and other amusements are being provided. The committee on arrangements invites all the members and friends of the company to join them and spend the day with them in the pleasant grove at that place. President Musser, of Bellefonte, is endeavoring to get a load and drive to the picnic grounds. If you desire to attend make application to him and he will try and accommodate you.

AUGUST COUNCIL.

Boro Legislators Have Little Important Business Monday Night.

The first meeting of the Borough council for August was held Monday evening at 7 30 in the council chamber in the public building. President Judge was in the chair with the following members present: Kirk, Shuey, Berzer, Musser, Keller, Hamilton and Harper.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Street committee reported repairs on various streets and alleys.

The Water committee reported repairing leaks on Ridge street. Change gaskets at the court house so as to cut off fountains. Tapped water for Samuel Rumberger on Armor street. Many bills for quarter ending July 1, amounting to $928. 19. Received $5.00 from Howard shows for water.

Village Improvement committee asked for light at railroad crossing leading to Coleville. Since the fence has been built around Athletic field it is very dark there.

It was referred to the street committee to investigate and report.

Nothing of importance was elicited from the reports of the other committees.

Quite a number of pavements in town were reported in a deplorable condition and the secretary was instructed to give them notice to repair same.

Finance committee reported a balance in the hands of the treasurer of $360.2[illegible]. A $6000 note to meet current expenses was ordered renewed.

James McSuley submitted a bid to paint the bridge at Phoenix mill for $[illegible] or if two coats are applied the price will be $24.00. He will also paint the fire plugs for 25 cents a piece.

The following bills were approved and orders drawn:

Street Pay Roll	$118.2[illegible]
A. E. Schad	3.7[illegible]
Police Pay Roll	52.5[illegible]

Mrs. George Davis.

Annie, wife of the late George D. Davis, deceased, died very suddenly this morning at 7 30 at her home on North Second street, the result of a stroke of paralysis, aged about seventy three years.

At 5 o'clock this morning she called her son Charles, who went to her bedside and found her unable to get up. A physician was at once summoned and everything possible done to relieve her but all efforts in this direction failed and at the hour indicated her spirit took its flight.

The deceased was born at Bellefonte but most of her life has been spent in Philipsburg. Her maiden name was Miss Annie Callahan, daughter of Charles and Margaret Callahan. She was married to George D. Davis in 1858, to whom seven children were born, only two of whom survive, viz: Mrs. Charles Pry, residing near Philipsburg and Charles of this place. Two brothers and one sister also survive, John and Wharton Callahan of this place, and Mrs. Celia Berkstresser of Hublersburg.

The death of this kind hearted and highly esteemed lady, coming so unexpectedly, is a sad blow to her many friends.

Nelson Flack.

Nelson Flack, an aged man who made his home with his son George B. Flack, near the Nittany furnace, died Wednesday evening of bronchial trouble. Mr. Flack had been confined to his bed for the past ten months. He was aged about 78 years, and has been a resident of Bellefonte for the past 48 years. During the dark days of the Civil war he heeded his country's call and enlisted in Company H, 148th regiment P. V. I. and served for two years and ten months.

Surviving him are four sons and two daughters, as follows: John, George E., James and Jerry, all of Bellefonte; Mrs. James McKinley, of Milesburg, and Mrs. Miriam Irvin, of Sharon, Pa.

The funeral took place Saturday afternoon at two o'clock and services were held in the United Evangelical church. Interment in the Union cemetery.

HE LOST OUT.

We recently noted the case of a farmer who had extensive building plans to carry out which required several carloads of lumber. In looking about for a place to purchase he ran across the advertisement of a house wrecking concern of a distant city, and, taken in by the glowing descriptions of the different items advertised, he ordered his material from the catalogue house without making inquiry of his home dealer. After his stuff came and he had paid spot cash for the whole bill and freight charges, amounting to about $200, he began to examine his order and compare it with what he could have got from the home dealer. He found that his doors cost him $1.25 when he could have got exactly the same thing at home for $1.15, with freight paid. The laths were thirty-two instead of forty-eight inches long, while dimension stuff, siding, flooring and finishing lumber, were perceptibly inferior in quality to like stuff in the home yards. Added to this was the handicap of being unable to return crooked or otherwise defective material, a privilege that he would have had had he negotiated with the home lumberman. The experience which this farmer had is not narrated in the hope that it will be of any benefit to him, though it probably will if he buys again, but it may cause some reader who is tempted to do the same thing to at least figure with the home dealer before placing an order with a distant house. And the principle applies to household furniture, to silk dresses and sewing machines just as pertinently as it does to big orders of lumber stock.

COWS AND FLIES.

Some years ago the Wisconsin agricultural experiment station conducted a test with a view to determining the results to be obtained from protecting cows from flies during the late summer months. One bunch of seven cows was confined during the daytime in a comfortable stable provided with screen doors and windows, while a second bunch was confined in a small lot provided with abundance of shade. Both lots were pastured at night and received the same kind and amount of grain feed, together with all the freshly cut sorghum and green corn that they would eat up clean during the day. While the cows confined in the stable ate considerably more green corn and sorghum, they lost more in live weight during the four weeks of the experiment than did the cows left out of doors. During the first two weeks of the experiment the cows kept in the stable produced 56.7 pounds of milk less than during the two weeks previous, while the cows not confined showed a decrease of only 40.4 pounds. The decrease in butter fat was .81 pound for the stabled cows and 2.16 pounds for those running at large. A consideration of the results of the test does not seem to show as great an effect on milk flow from the fly nuisance as is generally supposed.

HOW IT GETS A FOOTHOLD.

There is hardly a town in the north central states but has alleys or vacant lots on which grow thrifty patches of that worst of all agricultural pests, quack grass. The grass is in full head during the latter part of June and early July. Unless it is recognized and precautions taken the seed is likely to be scattered on adjoining gardens or fed, thrown on the manure pile and put on gardens or plowed land. When once the seed is in the soil the mischief is done, and ten stitches will be required to eradicate it where one would have sufficed to prevent its being scattered on the land. Such patches in town and along the roadsides should be spotted and pains taken not only to keep them from going to seed, but to kill the plants themselves. Such small patches may be easily disposed of by covering with tar paper for sixty days and putting earth around the edges, so as to keep out the light and air.

THE DIGNITY OF COMMON TOIL.

Real worth in living consists not so much in doing some great work or performing some great service, but doing the little things and common duties in a noble and faithful way. The housewife who performs her routine duties faithfully and cheerfully, the woman who washes clothes the best she knows how and the man who digs ditches or saws wood, together with the multitude of workers in shop or factory, perform just as valuable a service for their fellows as others who may make the laws or administer them, teach school or preach the gospel. A doctrine that needs extensive preaching today is that which upholds the dignity and sacredness of the common toil of life of whatever character. Only on such a basis is life endurable and can it be considered worth the living, for it is the common work of life that most of us are destined to perform.

If one does not have hens to consume the lawn cuttings the family cow will appreciate a bushel or two most every night, even if she has had good feed during the day.

The flock of sheep should be rotated from pasture to pasture, just as should corn, clover, oats or other crop to new land, if best results are to be secured. Change seems to be the law of some forms of animal as well as vegetable life.

A chunk of cotton or a soft rag moistened with carbon bisulphide and placed in the hole of woodchuck or skunk will put either one out of business without the use of elbow grease and spade. All but one hole of the burrow should be plugged up, and the last just as soon as the dope has been inserted.

One of the latest methods for killing dandelions to be recommended is spraying the plants with a solution made by dissolving two ounces of iron sulphate in a gallon of water. Such a spray is said to be strong enough to kill the dandelions, but does little injury to blue grass or white clover.

The sword fern, which is one of the most attractive ornamental house plants, seems to thrive better in those rooms where the temperature is most even and where it is not exposed to the direct rays of the sun. Experiments with a thrifty four-year-old fern of this variety in the writer's home lead to the above conclusion.

It is during the rainy weeks of the spring and fall that the placing of eave spouts on the feed yard side of the barn will tend to keep the yard from miring down and becoming an all around nuisance. Such an equipment will also mean more comfort for man and beast and a more economical handling of the barnyard manure because of less soaking and leaching.

If mildew gathers on the books on the library shelves or on the clothing in the closets, it is a pretty sure sign that the foundation of the house is low and improperly ventilated or that there is too much shade about the house. In either case the trouble should be righted, as the good health of the members of the family is of vital consideration.

In spite of the fact that the necessity of using commercial fertilizers in the state of Illinois was not considered within the range of possibility twenty years ago, $1,000,000 was nevertheless expended in the purchase of these articles last year. This move has been made necessary by a careless handling of the soil in which more was taken from it in the shape of crops than was replaced in the form of fertilizers.

If the trees bordering your place and overhanging the sidewalks have low hanging limbs which brush the hats or parasols of passersby, it is time you got busy with a saw and trimmed them up. Thrifty trees grow very fast and will send out these low branches before one realizes it. In the same way the trees about the house will thicken up soon after a previous year's pruning so as to practically envelop the house in shade.

If the strawberry bed is in its second or third year and is quite full of grass and weeds, it may be easily renovated by cutting it over closely with a scythe, burning or removing the litter and rutting up and cultivating thoroughly all of the bed but a narrow strip in the center of each row. From the roots left undisturbed enough runners will start to replant the bed. This job may be done as soon as the crop of berries is picked.

MOTTLED BUTTER.

Usually the blame for mottled butter is laid to improper salting, but tests show that salt cannot produce this result unless the butter contains an uneven distribution of buttermilk. If the butter is free from buttermilk, no matter how unevenly the salt is mixed, the streaks, or mottles, will not be produced. When churning is done so as to make the butter granules the size of rice grains and these are carefully washed twice with water at a temperature below 45 degrees, removing most of the buttermilk adhering to the outer surface of the granules, no mottles are obtained. The amount of proteid in mottled butter is greater in the light portions than in the darker portions and is the cause of the light color, or mottles. Salt brine does not change in any way the color of butter fat. Salt brine as it commonly occurs in butter has the power of hardening and localizing the proteid particles, the action requiring several hours for completion. In mottled butter the light portions usually contain less than the darker portions. It can be concluded, then, that mottles in butter are due primarily to the presence and uneven distribution of buttermilk adhering to the outer surface of the small granules and to the hardening and localizing effect of the salt brine upon the proteid of the buttermilk thus retained in the butter. The light portions of mottled butter owe their light color to the presence of localized proteid. The yellow or clear portions occur where the spaces between the butter granules are filled with clear brine and are comparatively free from casein compounds. Several hours are required to complete the action of the brine upon the proteisa of the butter. Mottles in butter can be prevented by avoiding those conditions that retain buttermilk in the butter and observing those conditions which favor the removal of buttermilk from butter granules before salting. The butter granules, as said above, should be about the size of rice grains and should be washed twice with water at a temperature of 35 to 45 degrees.

The use of paint is entirely justifiable not only from the standpoint of the looks of the buildings, but because of the protection which is thus afforded the wood.

Honesty, integrity and sobriety are the qualities that are sought after by employers these days, more stress being laid upon them than upon prospective employees' mental or physical qualities or equipment.

There is a vital connection between pure fresh air in the dairy barn and milk flow in that fresh air means a good state of health, a vigorous appetite, together with larger powers of digestion and assimilation, which result directly in an increased flow of milk.

A Texas farmer who is today considered the alfalfa king of the world began growing the legume twelve years ago on a tract of five acres. Later his farm contained 100 acres, while now it stretches over 1,400 acres. Last year his receipts from his alfalfa ranch were $100,000.

An old fashioned hardy rose of the double pink variety growing in the neighborhood in which the writer lives is said by old residents of the place to have been sending forth shoots from the same roots continuously for the past thirty-five years. The rose in question is the bush variety and is never covered.

Time was when most any kind of milking and handling of the milk in the stable were put up with provided the cream was handled properly in the dairy. It's different now, there being a full realization of the fact that dirt or odors which get into the milk in the stable cannot be eradicated in the churning or process of buttermaking.

Reports from one province of Japan are to the effect that there is at present growing before a temple of Buddha in one of its cities a pine tree which is said to be 1,200 years old. The tree was planted in front of the pagoda by a zealous devotee as a sort of perpetual free will offering. In all the succeeding centuries the conifer has been carefully tended.

The best way to fight the knot or crab grass which sometimes gets a foothold in the lawn in the summer months is to water the lawn frequently if rainfall is insufficient, thus keeping the lawn grass in a thrifty condition, and cut quite often. Being a hot weather, deep rooted grass, the crab grass flourishes under conditions in which the blue grass will remain at a standstill.

A family of blackbirds which have nested in the writer's yard this season, the location of the nest not being discovered until after the young were nearly ready to fly, have broken up a robin's and a mourning dove's nest and would have treated a catbird's nest similarly had not timely assistance been rendered. The blackbird and bluejay are pirates and should be treated as such.

There are quite a lot of pretty good girls from many points of view who seem to overlook the fact that when a young fellow looks around for a wife he directs his attention to the one who has sunshine in her heart and deftness of hand rather than artificial blushes or powder on her cheeks. There is no deception which is so crude and raw and ill concealed as this. A fool, running, can spot it at a glance.

Next year's raspberry patch will be in a great deal better shape and produce much more fruit if the tips of this year's new shoots are snipped off when they have reached the desired height, from three to four feet. This treatment not only makes them less spindly, but greatly increases the fruit bearing shoots for next year. If allowed to grow in their own way some of the black varieties, especially the Older, will attain a length of ten to twelve feet.

The habits of thought and work that a boy acquires at from ten to fourteen years are quite likely to be largely determining and molding factors in all his after life. On this occasion it is well for the parents to give wise direction in these formative years and for the boy to take himself in hand with a view to developing his powers and talents in the best possible ways. The boy that runs loose and wild during these years without restraint of any kind cannot be expected to develop into a good man any more than a colt similarly handled can be expected to make a tractable and valuable horse.

A friend who sowed rye last fall on a plot of ground—several acres—from which he took a crop of potatoes the latter part of September tells us that, while he pastured this piece well into the winter and turned his cows on it early last spring and did not take them off until the 1st of May, the stand of the cereal is so heavy and the heads filling so well that he anticipates a yield of close to thirty bushels per acre. In addition to furnishing a good bite for his stock when green food was scarce, the putting of the rye on the piece of ground has resulted in keeping it very free from weeds. After the rye is cut he will be able to grow a crop of buckwheat, millet or turnips. We believe that rye might be used a great deal more than it is in the above manner and the weed nuisance abated considerably as a result.

The Other Great Man.

Dr. Russell Cool of California happened to suppress an epidemic of measles while on a vacation trip to Tahiti, and Chief Oreaori gratefully invited him to a banquet in his primitive palace. The south sea potentate and his white guest sat amiably on the floor and dined off roast pig and other native delicacies served on broad leaves and eaten with the fingers. After dinner host and guest adjourned to seats outside the palace, lit long, fat, black cigars and gazed out over the moonlit Pacific. In the eyes of Chief Oreaori, Robert Louis Stevenson, who did so much to improve the condition of the south sea islanders, was the greatest white man that ever lived. The chief related to Dr. Cool many incidents to illustrate Stevenson's kindliness, then asked a score of questions about the health of Stevenson's widow and of his stepchildren. When the last question had been answered there followed a long period of silence. The two friends puffed slowly at their cigars and luxuriously regarded the radiant tropic moonlight glowing upon rustling palm fronds and the silvery ocean. Then Oreaori turned to the doctor and demanded, "Now tell me about John L. Sullivan!"—Harper's Weekly.

Freezing Flesh.

It is a curious fact that, although dwellers in northern climes must have known for ages that a low temperature preserves flesh from putrefaction, it never seems to have struck any one that this natural fact could be turned to artificial advantage until Lord Bacon stuffed the historic chicken with snow and thereby caught a chill which killed him. It is perhaps even more curious that an experiment resulting in the death of one of the most eminent men in the world should not have called any attention to an already well known principle which might have been readily turned to great advantage. As a matter of fact, it was not until the year 1875, 249 years after Lord Bacon's fatal experiment, that freezing was practically employed as a method of preserving flesh. This was the commencement of the frozen meat trade between America and England. Four years later a dry air refrigerator was perfected.

Thought He Had Died.

A prominent member of a German-American society told a story about a German friend of his who was taken ill. For many days the German was close to death, but after a time he showed improvement in condition. The doctor told the German's wife that her husband might have anything to eat that he liked.

The German expressed a desire for limburger cheese, and the wife, being a generous woman and pleased at the improvement and in order that her husband might have a nibble at any time he had a taste for it, put some cheese in every room in the house. It is easy to imagine the aroma.

The next morning the doctor called at the house, and as soon as he opened the door he asked:

"When did he die?"—Hartford Post.

How It Works Out.

"I never tell funny stories in my speeches," remarked Senator Sorghum.

"The audience always enjoys them."

"Yes. A man hears you tell a funny story, and he thinks it is so good he tries to remember it. He regards you as a first rate fellow and feels thankful to you for giving him a new one. Then he tells it to the first friend he meets, and as he isn't a good story teller the friend doesn't laugh. Then he tries it on the blase hotel clerk and the stolid drug store man and several others, and by the time he gets home he concludes you have passed him a gold brick. He not only refuses to vote for you, but tells all his friends he doesn't think it's dignified to keep in office a man who tells funny stories."—Washington Star.

Spelled In Full.

"We had an editor in chief on our paper years ago who was a stickler for no abbreviations," said a veteran newspaper man. "He didn't believe in abbreviating anything but the word mister. The names of states had to be spelled out. One time one of the boys wrote a news story which contained this clause: 'And Mozart's mass was played.' The proofreader who got the story had been under the exacting direction of that editor for years, too many years to allow any proper name to get by him without being spelled out, so when he came to this 'mass' he 'rung' the word, and it came out 'Mozart's Massachusetts.'"—Omaha Bee.

Radical.

"I hear that your new school superintendent is rather radical."

"He is that," responded Farmer Haw. "He's cut out the higher headwork and the perforated tattling, and he's advising teachers to handle the children according to the rules of common sense. Oh, yes! Our new superintendent is radical, all right."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

To Get Rid of Dead Beats.

The merchants of Wilkes-Barre have begun a commendable reform movement in which they can succeed if they remain firm and true to their resolves. The Wilkes-Bare Record says: "A number of the retail merchants of Wilkes-Barre have banded together for the institution of some much needed reforms. Active interest is being taken in the recently revived association. The first step taken was to enter into an agreement to get ride of the dead beats—those who leave one store when their credit is exhausted and proceed to rob another merchant. There is now a common list of dead beats and every merchant may consult it and govern himself accordingly. The latest move is to compel all grocery merchants to keep their stores closed on Sunday. There should be no difficulty in carrying it into effect. There is no doubt that all merchants are anxious to have the day off. Their employes are entitled to it. Besides Sunday selling is against the law. Everywhere the tendency is to have less regard for the God made and mandate laws respecting the Sabbath. It can be combatted only by the united effort on the part of associations and moral and religious agencies working for the continuation of Sunday as a day of rest and quiet.

Railroad Toboggan Results in Accident.

Carrol, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Myers, of Williamsport, was painfully hurt at Nippono park Tuesday morning, but was remarkably fortunate in that he escaped with his life. Carrol and a companion of about the same age were amusing themselves riding on small lumber cars used by Daniel Kavanaugh on a lumber job just across the railroad tracks from the park. Each of the boys had a car which they ran up a slight incline and then jumping on got a free ride down. On the last trip young Myers was riding on the rear end of the front car, with the car occupied by the other lad only a short distance behind him. In some manner the boy lost control of the second car and it ran into the front one. Carrol was unable to get out of the way and his left leg was pinched between the two cars. An ugly gash was torn in the leg, but fortunately no bones were broken. Dr. L. M. Goodman, of Jersey Shore, was called and gave him attention.

Great Features!

The series of mystery stories now being published by "The Philadelphia Press" are surely the most interesting, thrilling and fascinating stories that have ever been published by any news paper. The stories are filled with thrilling experiences, baffling plots and tragic endings, which keep the reader deeply interested from beginning to end.

"The Philadelphia Press" also publishes the recognized sporting page and is the known authority among baseball fans. It is the thoroughly accurate reliable and is full of ginger and is written by men who know. "The Press" devotes more space to interesting sporting news than any other Philadelphia newspaper.

Centre Hall Notes.

From the Reporter.

Harry Leepard of Bellefonte, is spending the hot summer days at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Gingerich, west of Centre Hall.

Jermiah Stump, of Centre Hall, was taken to the Bellefonte hospital, and Tuesday a cancerous growth was removed from the inside of the right cheek. He had been suffering for some time from the growth. Since the operation he has been getting along very well.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Strohm, Miss Margaret Strohm, and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Person, Tuesday morning went to Scranton, where they will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Strohm. The latter is connected with the International Correspondence school in the capacity of text book writer.

Tuesday was an unfortunate day for Samuel Stump, who is employed on the farm by Sydney Poorman. He was hauling rails, and while standing on the top of a load of that material, he lost his balance, and in falling struck his face against a large stone. His nose was broken, and other injuries inflicted which Dr. P. H. Dale was called on to repair.

Wednesday the masons began constructing the wall for the reservoir, the grouting foundation having previously been finished. John H. Horner of Colyer, is the mason in charge. The front and rear layers of stone will be roughdressed and laid in cement, and the interior will be filled with grouting. This style of construction is followed in building bridge piers, and no doubt will make a substantial water-proof wall.

Aged Woman Falls and Breaks her Knee.

Mrs. Helen Sloan, aged 94 years, whose home is with her daughter, Mrs. W. Stiber, at Cedar Run, fell on Sunday, while about the premises and sustained a fracture of her knee. The fall was caused by the aged lady stumbling. Dr. W. E. Delaney, of Slate Run, was called to attend the aged sufferer, and he thinks that notwithstanding the extreme age of the patient she will recover the use of her limb.

There is a peculiarly interesting touch of history in connection with Mrs. Sloan. Her father was an uncle of the famous Ethan Allen. Her father was a soldier in the Revolutionary war. He was taken prisoner by the British, and was in their hands for several months. After the close of the war he was given land in payment for his services. His grant embraced the present site of the city of Syracuse. It is said that Mr. Sloan, for a kindness done him by a friend, gave the latter part of his land, and this portion became the location for Syracuse.

TheGirl Question

New York is not always the originator of the big show hits. "The Girl Question" has had a run of 339 performances in Chicago and now it comes to Wallack's Theatre to stir up blase old Broadway with a whirl of Lake Michigan breezes. As usual, ever "on the job," the New York Sunday World has gotten the best song from the show and will give it away, words and music complete, with next Sunday's issue. Order advance copy from newsdealer else you will miss this popular and catchy song that is the hit of "The Girl Question."

WANTS AN OPENING.

An eastern reader of these notes, a young man of twenty-two years living in the city of New York, writes inquiring what the chances are farther west for a young man who is well and strong and willing to work, but yet who wants to get into some kind of business for himself, preferably an outdoor occupation, like farming. It is a very natural thought on the part of New Englanders that there are better opportunities for getting ahead in the Mississippi valley states and with the resident of the central states that better opportunities are to be found on the Pacific slope. There is doubtless truth in the contention of those in both sections referred to. Yet before going west we should advise our young friend to look around a bit near home. Many western agricultural papers have been publishing articles of late relative to opportunities in New England, especially along the line of taking hold of some of the so called abandoned or unproductive farms. Not long since there was cited in these notes the case of a young man who had traveled the country over and who had equipped himself for an agricultural professorship or a responsible position in the government service and yet who after taking everything into account had decided to go back to the old home farm in York state and put out more orchards and otherwise develop intelligently the possibilities of an eastern farm. There is little question that there is more doing in a general way in the central western than in the New England states and more in the western group than in the central, but in both sections considerable ready money is needed for one to buy a farm or ranch, unless it be a small one, or to embark in a paying business enterprise. Our friend does not advise us of his tastes, so that we hardly feel qualified to give him specific information as to the pursuit which he should follow. But, whatever these may be, it is a pretty good idea for one who contemplates locating in a new or distant section of the country to visit such a place before acquiring any property interest with a view to ascertaining what the prospects or possibilities of the section may be. This may mean the paying out of a considerable sum for car fare and hotel bills, but in the end it is often the cheapest way to do.

BOYS AND WORK.

While there are practically no people who do not regret the selfish and hard hearted economic influences of the times which condemn little boys of from ten to fourteen years to all day or all night labor in the breakers in anthracite collieries or in factories where conditions are unwholesome, yet a child labor law which will tend to prevent boys under fourteen working during their spare time and serve to give them instead opportunity for idleness, shiftlessness and mischief could hardly be viewed as entirely beneficent in its working. It is a matter of common observation as well as statistics that the bums and criminals with which the country is cursed are recruited almost entirely from a class of boys and girls who do not go to school or have regular and definite work to do during the formative years from ten to sixteen. It is for this reason that the cities and towns produce ten no-accounts and criminals where the country produces one or two, and this would seem to be almost entirely due to the fact that on the farm the boy has something to do and does not spend his time in loafing or mischief. By all means have a wholesome child labor law, but let it be so framed that it will not tend to demoralize and keep out of employment children who would be unquestionably the better off for it.

WILLOW FOR POST TIMBER.

A north Iowa reader of these notes inquires if the common willow cannot be utilized for post timber in place of high priced cedar. He writes that he has on his place a good many willows which he thinks of utilizing in this manner. He suggests the wisdom of dipping the posts in hot tar so that it will cover them to a point six inches above the ground after they are set. While he have never tried this method of treating posts, we have seen it highly recommended. A well seasoned peeled willow post will last from four to seven years without any tar treatment. It is safe to say that if the posts were well seasoned and dipped in the hot tar their durability would be nearly trebled. This has been the case in experiments in which other woods have been used, and it is quite likely that it would hold good with willow. With post timber high and the supply becoming yearly more limited, it would seem but the part of wisdom to treat with tar or other preservative all posts to be set of whatever kind. The small expense involved is returned many times in the increased life of the post.

If Dame Nature has concocted a more luscious or delightful dish than ripe red strawberries and Jersey cream she has not yet published the formula for it.

There is good money in the extra cultivation of the corn crop if it means an increased yield of from eight to twelve bushels per acre, which has often been noted in corn growing experiments.

The growing things in the garden should not only be given frequent cultivation for the purpose of killing the weeds, but in order to keep the soil loose and mellow so that the air and moisture may circulate freely through the soil.

The limit would seem to have been reached for the stock feeder when he is compelled to pay 77 cents a bushel for good corn to finish his hogs and cattle for market, and yet this price was paid July 1 by many feeders in the northern portion of the corn belt.

Steps have been taken by the American Humane society to secure the cooperation of President Roosevelt in the protection of the range cattle of the west. The idea contemplated is to pass laws which shall compel cattlemen to provide food and water and shelter for their stock.

The question of cutting the lawn grass should be determined largely by the amount of rainfall. When moisture is abundant it may be cut as often as twice a week. In the months of July and August, especially if droughty weather prevails, it should go longer than this without cutting, so that the roots may not be too sorely taxed.

A plan that is recommended for keeping down the late growth of weeds in the potato patch after the vines have reached maturity is to sow buckwheat about the middle of July. This will come on as the vines ripen and occupy the ground. If the amount sown will not pay to harvest, it can be allowed to stay on the field and plowed under after the crop is dug.

Other things being equal, tomato plants will produce larger fruit in proportion as the quantity of fruit which the plant is allowed to mature is limited. Where one does not have the time to train the vines and prune them with considerable care somewhat the same results may be obtained by cutting off the growing shoots with a corn knife, which tends to throw the strength of the vine into the remaining fruit.

One of the chief advantages in knowing how to swim is that it helps one to keep his presence of mind when thrown unexpectedly into the water. The knowledge that one can swim removes almost entirely the fear of drowning and enables one to make the moves necessary to help himself or his companions. The small boy and girl, too, when it is possible, should be allowed to "go down to swim" and go "near the water" too.

If the old strawberry bed has served its mission and is too foul and weedy to pay to renovate it may be mowed off, plowed up and a good crop of turnips or bagas raised if August and September are not too dry months. In any event, this treatment will kill a big batch of weeds and germinate and destroy a great amount of lately matured weed seed, the doing of which will justify the trouble one is put to, whether any turnips are raised or not.

It will be interesting to note whether the passage of Governor Hughes' anti race track gambling bill will result in a serious loss of interest on the part of New York state breeders of thoroughbred running and trotting horses. Without doubt the effect of the law will be considerable with those who have raised or owned thoroughbred horseflesh simply for the sake of the excitement which the gambling afforded, while those who prize a good horse on his merits will not be seriously put out by the change.

If a patch of ground is so weak in point of fertility that it will not produce a good growth of weeds, it is well nigh worthless. Just so with the boy. If he hasn't life and energy enough to do considerable mischief on occasion, there is little prospect that he will ever do much good in the world. It is the fields that could grow weeds, but give their fertility to growing useful crops, that make farm lands valuable, and it is boys and girls of capacity and energy for sowing wild oats, but who devote their strength along wholesome lines, that good men and women are developed from.

GROWING CLOVER FOR SEED.

Considering the fact that the growing of clover enriches the soil and the further fact of the extremely high price at which clover seed has sold during the past few years, it would seem like a paying proposition to take up the growing of clover for seed. Quite often, it is true, the seed does not seem to mature properly, but this may be due in part to the effort which is usually made to get a crop of hay and a crop of seed from the same piece of land the same season. Where the season is long enough this can be done without trouble, but often insufficient time is left after the crop of hay is removed to mature a crop of seed. Were the seed made the primary consideration and the crop of hay removed somewhat earlier than is the case when the quality of the hay is the prime object the field would get nicely headed out and stand a better chance of maturing its seed without danger from damage by unseasonable weather in the fall.

The tomato plant, considered an annual in all the northern and eastern states, grows to be two or three years old in portions of California where it is not killed by the frost.

After the early peas, radishes, lettuce and potatoes have been harvested and the vines removed sufficient time will still be left to grow a late crop of string beans, which will be keenly relished along in September.

Most of the enemies of the rose family can be warded off by giving the bushes a good sousing with water under pressure every morning. Where this cannot be done the bushes should be sprayed with hellebore and tobacco water.

The latest millinery creation, the "Merry Maid" hat, said to have a diameter of four feet, has this in its favor—that it can be utilized as a sunshade by the boys on the riding corn plows after the ribbons have faded and the straw has turned yellow.

The boy who develops a lazy, tired streak at fourteen is quite likely to be termed shiftless and improvident when he becomes a man. It is a trait that should by all means be discouraged, for the tendencies which develop during these early years have a way of persisting and staying with the boy.

For the sake of the good housewife there should be a kitchen cabinet, water and drainage facilities in the business end of the house even at expense of a few pieces of upholstered furniture in the parlor. She is entitled to just as much comfort and convenience when she is at work as the company are when they are at ease.

The crop report issued by the specialists of the agricultural department in charge of this work show that, while the area devoted to oats is 6 per cent less than the area sown last year, or 193,000 acres, the condition of the 31,644,000 acres sown is represented by 92.9 per cent of a normal crop as compared with 81.6 on June 1, 1907.

It is often the case with the horse along in years that his being in poor condition is the result of his teeth being out of whack. Perhaps the teeth need filing down so as to make possible a proper mastication of the food. Take such an animal to a competent veterinarian and have him examined. If the trouble is with the teeth it can easily be remedied.

After the strawberry bed is well started it requires no more care than does a properly attended potato patch. This should consist of frequent cultivatings with cultivator or hoe and a keeping of the bed free from weeds. During an especially dry spell a dust mulch should be kept at the surface of the ground to keep the roots of the plants from baking and drying out.

If the calves are afflicted with scours a simple and easy cure may be effected by putting into their ration of milk at the rate of one teaspoonful to each pint or pound a solution made by adding half an ounce of formalin to fifteen and one-half ounces of water. Experiments which have been conducted with this formalin treatment show that it effects a ready cure and is not injurious to the calves.

An interstate pure seed law is now contemplated and will likely be passed at the next session of congress. It will provide that all seeds offered for interstate shipment shall be under a definite guarantee as to purity and that no seeds mixed or containing adulterants shall cross state lines. As things stand just now residents of many states are given quite adequate protection by laws of their own state touching pure seeds offered for sale locally, but have no assurance of a square deal in those shipped in from other states. The new law should be welcomed by all honest men.

String beans may be put down in salt the same as corn, and this in a very easy and simple manner. Prepare as for cooking and boil until nearly done, about an hour; then take one quart of coarse salt and mix thoroughly with four quarts of the prepared beans. Pack down in stone jars and cover with cloth, plate and weight. In getting them ready for the table next winter rinse the loose salt off and put to soak in boiling water at night. Change the water a couple of times the next morning. Cook until done, preparing as if fresh from the garden. Beans preserved in this way retain their beany flavor remarkably well.

For the benefit of some readers who may not have remembered directions previously given for preserving eggs in a water glass solution we will repeat the recipe. The receptacle for the preserving of the eggs, preferably a stone jar, should be scalded with boiling water. The preservative solution is made by adding one quart of water glass to fifteen quarts of water. Fresh and clean but unwashed eggs should be packed in the jar and this solution poured over them, enough to cover. It is best where possible to put down eggs each day as they are laid, adding enough of the solution to completely cover them. Eggs put up in the above manner may be kept eight months and still be good for all home uses. The cost of treating the eggs in this way, outside of the price of the jar, is about a cent a dozen, depending upon the cost of the water glass.

WEAK HEARTS

are caused by Indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of Indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.

Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.
MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.
D. KAUBLE, Nevada, O.

W. B. Reduso CORSETS

The Perfect Corset for Large Women

It places over-developed women on the same basis as their slender sisters. It tapers off the bust, flattens the abdomen, and absolutely reduces the hips from 1 to 5 inches. Not a harness—not a cumbersome affair, no torturing straps, but the most scientific example of corsetry, boned in such a manner as to give the wearer absolute freedom of movement.

New W. B. Reduso No. 770. For large tall women. Made of white coutil. Hose supporters front and sides. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

New W. B. Reduso No. 771. Is the same as No. 770, but is made of light weight white batiste. Hose supporters front and sides. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

New W. B. Reduso No. 772. For large short women. The same as No. 770, except that the bust is somewhat lower all around. Made of white coutil, hose supporters front and sides Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

New W. B. Reduso No. 773, is the same as No. 772, but is made of light weight white batiste. Hose supporters front and sides. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

Reduso No. 770 $3.00

Ask any dealer anywhere to show you the new W. B. "hip-subduing" models, which will produce the correct figure for prevailing modes, or any of our numerous styles which are made in such a variety as to guarantee perfect fit for every type of figure.

EDITORIAL.

ATTORNEY General Bonapart is not going to let that $29,000,000 case get away without a struggle.

AN unusually large number of political sideshow actors this year seem to imagine they're performing in the main tent.

THERE were nineteen billion pins made in this country last year, and yet a fellow can never find one when he wants it right bad.

PROF. GRAHAM BELL says that air ships are going to carry mail soon. The farmers will certainly know it when the rural carrier drops off a Sunday paper.

MR. HARRIMAN is collecting quite a tidy length of railroads. Controlling as he does 30,000 miles, it would take him 32 days to ride over the whole of it at an average of 40 miles an hour.

EVERY American boy cannot hope to be president, but at the rate the new parties are springing up it may soon be possible for every one at some time or other to be a candidate for the office.

RESUMPTION of large enterprises, the July bookings of the United States Steel corporation, plans for new industrial plants to cost from a million to several millions of dollars, are interesting features of a return to normal times.

IT is announced that a million copies of Mr. Taft's speech of acceptance are to be circulated over the country. It has already appeared in whole or in part in thousands of newspapers. The paper industry at any rate should be on the high road to prosperity.

SOME of the union men of the country are bothering Mr. Gompers with impertinent questions. They want to know what Mr. Bryan has ever done for labor. And they ask why it is that those portions of the country in which the democratic party has been in undisputed control for over a generation are the precise portions in which the rewards of labor are the poorest and the hours of service the longest. Thus far they have received no answer. There is little reason to suppose they ever will.

A CHANCE FOR A DRUNKARD.

A young man was brought before Judge Staake in the quarter sessions court in Philadelphia, charged with robbery and shooting in a saloon, the offenses having been committed while the man was under influence of liquor. He was sentenced to two years' imprisonment, but sentence was suspended, the Judge saying to the man. "A man who may become crazy under the influence of drink ought to have sufficient manhood and determination not to touch it at all, especially when you consider that you might have been on trial here for your life if you had killed one or the other of those men. I am going to suspend sentence in your case and allow you to go on condition that you take the pledge and keep it, and on condition that you report to the court regularly on the first day of each month during the next two years as to what you have been doing during the previous month—whether you have been at work, where you have been at work, what your earnings have been and what you have been doing. If at the end of those two years you have evidenced that I have made no mistake in giving you the opportunity of being relieved from the prison stigma as a convict, and giving you an opportunity of rehabilitation you may be relieved even of the period of probation." The case will no doubt be watched with much interest by many persons some as doubters about the wisdom of the judge's action and others as hopeful that it may prove the saving of the erring one.

EX-Secretary Taft's speech in accepting the formal notification of the Republican party for President takes up boldly the pivotal and what are by some deemed the delicate issues of the campaign. Apologizing for the length of his speech by the importance of the subjects treated he occupies nearly half of its space in dealing with the question of railroad regulation and the restraint of trusts and monopolistic combinations. About one-fifth in addition deals with the relations of labor to legislation and the question of injunctions. The remaining space dealing with tariff currency, postal savings banks versus the Government guarantee of bank deposits, the Philippines, foreign policy, the army and navy, the Government expenditures and even the income tax ranks those subjects as of minor weight in the opening campaign.

WHILE the Indipendance party platform begins with a declaration that it desires to conserve the liberties of the people, to restore the policies of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln, not to propose radical departures, it passes rapidly to proposing government ownership of railroads and telegraphs; initiative and referendum; recall of officers elected; no injunction until after trial by jury, and a few other planks equally radical. Government ownership proposed by Bryan two years ago, but withdrawn as too radical for a Democratic platform, all of the most radical demands of the Populists, and some others! We may imagine the shades of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln sitting up in surprise at hearing these policies coupled with their revered names!

FROM various quarters comes the suggestion that training in the art of swimming should be part of the education of every child, in order to decrease the danger of drowning accidents. This is hardly practicable especially in large communities. However, it is certain that if more common sense and forethought would be used by persons fond of water sports these regrettable occurances would be few and far between. Carelessness in the management of a boat, indifference to the warnings of storm clouds, to say nothing of that criminal habit of boat-rocking, is responsible for most of the disasters. When possible, swimming should be numbered among one's accomplishments, but when this is not possible common sense and care will do much toward eliminating danger.

YOUNG HAYES who won the Marathon race—about 26 miles—is not the only American long distance runner to command the attention of the world. William Howard Taft will make a record run from ocean to ocean and end at the White House without getting winded.

THE farmers of Pennsylvania are now too busy harvesting enormous crops to respond to the Bryan crys for dollar contributions. Also they have a lively recollection of the Nebraskan's prediction in a former campaign that the election of a Republican president would mean 50-cent wheat.

THE people of Lock Haven and Clinton county are exhibiting the noble and generous impulses of the American people as well as grit and enterprise by the manner in which they are preparing to replace the recently destroyed hospital. Instead of sitting down and lamenting their misfortune they have gone to work with a zeal that is to be commended.

THE York Gazette, which, is published in a very fertile agricultural section of the commonwealth, congratulates the farmers of Pennsylvania upon the splendid success that is crowning their labors this year. It tells us that there is every reason to believe that the farmers are going to be exceptionally fortunate with their crops and this paper supposes it is right. When the farmer who feeds us all is prosperous hard times should vanish presently.

The First Census.

Residents of Pennsylvania whose ancestors lived in the State in the days when Washington was President, will be interested in the announcement made by Director of the Census North, that he has in press and will soon publish the names of heads of families residing in Pennsylvania at the time and confirmed in the returns of first census of the United States in 1790.

The total population of Pennsylvania at the time the first census was taken was 434,373. Philadelphia, then the second city in the Union, had only 28,522 inhabitants in 1790, while New York, the metropolis boasted 33,131.

In an introduction to the work on the first census Director North says the taking of it was attended by many difficulties. "The inhabitants having no experience with census-taking, imagined that some scheme for increasing taxation was involved and were inclined to be cautious lest they should reveal too much of their own affairs. There was also opposition to enumeration on religious grounds, a count of inhabitants being regarded by many as a cause for Divine displeasures."

—The Lock Haven State Normal School is ideally located among the mountains of central Penna. in a health ful and progressive community. It is easily accessible and therefore draws students from every section of Penn. Its beautiful buildings, fine gymnasium and splendid faculty make it particularly attractive. Its enrollment last year was greatly in excess of former years. A handsome catalogue will be sent upon application to the Principal.

Boy Burned to Death.

About 4 o'clock Saturday the house of Albert Winkler at Osceola caught fire and before it could be got under control the roof was burned off and otherwise badly damaged. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been caused by matches which a three-year old boy of the family had been playing with, setting fire to a curtin on the second floor, when it ran to the attic. The flames gained such a rapid headway that it was impossible to reach the child in order to save it, and when found was burned to a crisp, both arms being burned entirely off. About 2000 people were on the scene.

—The Lock Haven State Normal School sent out a large class of young ment and women at its last announcemen. Their excellent training thoroughly equipped them for the position o teachers and it is gratifying to know t at they were all fortunate in securing schools. Its patronage during the year just closed exceeded any previous year. Address the Principal for illustrated catalogue.

Correspondence.

Spring Mills.

On Thursday evening last, Mrs. D. W. Sweetwood was more than astonished by a large surprise birthday party, as she had not the remotest idea that anything of the kind was in contemplation, when the party entered and without any ceremony took immediate possession of her home it certainly was much to that lady's astonishment. But soon recovering herself and realizing at once that the visitation was a surprise party, entered into the spirit of the occasion with all her usual skill of entertaining. The tables were soon set and lavishly furnished with choice dainties and substantials of an elegant and inviting character, to which all did ample justice. Music, games and mirth followed, in fact it was an evening of one continual round of pleasure and enjoyment. At rather a late hour, after expressing themselves as having been delightfully entertained, and wishing their hostess many returns of the day, all the guests returned to their respective homes. Mrs. Sweetwood was the recipient of a large number of valuable and useful remembrances. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Finkel, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Ripka, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Kennelly, Mr. and C. E. Royer, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Finkel, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. King, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Long, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ripka, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith and daughter Martha, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Gramley, Mr. and Mrs. John Zerby and grand daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Condo, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Zettle, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ripka, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sweetwood and son Russell, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ripka, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Harter, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bartgee, Mrs. J. U. Steiffer, Mrs. J. Shook, Mrs. Frank McClellan, Mrs. H. S. Braucht, Mrs. C. A. Krape, Mrs. H. F. Roseman, Mrs. J. A. Hazel, Mrs. Susan Rohl, Mrs. R. U. Bitner, Mrs. Samuel Wise, Mrs. Bright Bitner, Mrs. Wm. Hagan and daughter Violet, Mrs. D. U. McCool, Mrs. C. E. Zeigler, Mrs. Wm. Harvey and son, Misses Pearl Steiffer, Blanche Bartges, Mabel and Ruth Finkle, Kate McCool, Birdie Jemison, Lola Davis, Helen Zettle, Messrs. Phil Auman, Chas. Auman, C. Zettle, G. A. Ripka, Clarence and Clyde Ripka, Chas. Zettle, Harry Finkle and Roy Harter.

About everything is arranged for the D. M. Wolf reunion on the 6th inst. A large number of his former pupils residing at a distance, have informed the committee that they would be present, of course nearly everybody in town will attend, it will be a gala day.

Work has commenced on the new foot bridge over Penns Creek. Last week workmen were building the pier, pier and abutments are to be concrete.

Mrs. C. P. Long entertained her Sunday school class of little folks on Friday afternoon with quite a lively lawn party. The little folks had a royal good time and enjoyed it immensely.

J. D Long is erecting a dwelling in the road leading to the railroad station, a fine location.

The base ball game between Georges Valley and Spring Mills on Saturday last, resulted in favor of the former.

Commercial agents stopping off here report business on the road very light. They say that merchants are selling unusually close to the shore, and only order what they must have and in small quantities.

Some little coal is being cut in this neighborhood. Many of the farmers however, think its a trifle "previous." The crop will be a large one.

The Wolf reunion no doubt will put a quietus to a Union Sunday school picnic this summer.

MISS ANNIE CATRON.

CATARRH MADE LIFE A BURDEN TO ME.

MISS ANNIE CATRON, 927 Main St., Cincinnati, Ohio, writes:

"As I have found Peruna a blessing for a severe case of catarrh of the head and throat which I suffered from for a number of years, I am only too pleased to give it my personal endorsement.

"Catarrh, such as I suffered from, made life a burden to me, my breath was offensive, stomach bad, and my head stopped up so that I was usually troubled with a headache, and although I tried many so-called remedies, nothing gave me permanent relief. I was rather discouraged with all medicines when Peruna was suggested to me.

"However, I did buy a bottle, and before that was finished there was a marked change in my condition. Much encouraged I kept on until I was completely cured in a month's time, and I find that my general health is also excellent."

Man-a-lin the Ideal Laxative.

Snow Shoe.

Last Saturday being the winning day for the S. S. base ball team. S. S. and Beech Creek played at Snow Shoe, two games being played. The forenoon game was 8—9 in favor of S. S. and the afternoon game was 18—6 in favor of the Coal Barons. What do you know about S. S. now. They are tie for the top of the ladder.

Hello Runville, how is biz, has your little messenger been in lately to help you along with your scribe? He is quite a bright little fellow, isn't he? He must be looking up a location for a hot air plant in Runville. It would hurry him to find level ground enough in Runville. Just one minute Runville, if Snow Shoe has got hot air generators we do not have to stand on our heads in the morning to see the sun rise. Good-by, Runville, come again.

Herbert Faus of Lumber city is visiting his many friends in this place.

Daniel Moore of Three Runs was seen on our streets on Monday.

Gilbert Zimmerman and Thomas Menchio made a trip to Karthaus on last Thursday evening. They reported having a fine time.

—A first class training school is also an excellent fitting school for life. The Lock Haven State Normal School meets these requirements and its large patronage is the best proof of this fact. It has a fine faculty made up of graduates of the best training schools and colleges in the United States and foreign countries. The expenses are moderate and its home influences are particularly attractive. Its location is unsurpassed in this state and its reputation equals the best anywhere. Address the Principal for illustrated catalogue.

The worries of a weak and sick mother are only begun with the birth of her child. By day her work is constantly interrupted and at night her rest is broken by the wailing of the peevish, puny infant. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It lightens all the burdens of maternity, giving to mothers strength and vigor, which they impart to their children. In about forty years of practice Dr. Pierce and his associate staff of physicians have treated and cured more than half a million suffering women. Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free of charge. All correspondence is strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Take Notice.

The public will please take notice that my wife Matilda Jane Williamson having left my bed and board I will not pay any bills contracted by her.

Playing the Game.

The Centre and Clinton league t ams dealt out some surprises to the fans in Saturday's games. Two of the teams are now tie for first place and two are tie for the next place and the other two are very close. They are playing great ball now and as each succeeding game scheduled draws near the interest increases and the results are eagerly sought. There is every indication of a lively contest from now on and the teams are being ably supported by the fans of their home towns.

The whitewash which Orvis received from Howard on Saturday pulled the percentage of the leaders down a peg and the double-header won by Snow Shoe on Saturday put the Coal Barons tie with the Mountaineers for first place. These teams will be watched with interest at the next games. The first game between Snow Shoe and Beech Creek at Snow Shoe was a victory for the Coal Barons by the score of 9—8. In the second game the Red Roses were somewhat crippled and lacked a good battery. The result was that the Barons played all around them and gave them the worst calcimining that any of the teams has yet received, the score being 17—0. It was a hard luck day for the Beech Creek boys. The double loss dropped them on a par Howard.

The Mill Hall—Woolrich game at Woolrich was also somewhat of a landslide and the Woolpickers had to accept a defeat from the Ponies by the score of 16 to 6.

James A. Smith.

James A. Smith a life long resident of Blanchard and a veteran of the Civil war died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Courter in Blanchard Monday morning after a long illness of cancer. He was aged 61 years, 9 months and 9 days.

Mr. Smith enlisted in Company K of the 203rd regiment P. V., and served ten months until the close of the war. He was a member of the George Harleman post 302, and was a man of the highest integrity and of splendid christian character.

His wife died several years ago. He is survived by his aged mother, Mrs. Thomas Smith, of Liberty township and the following brothers and sisters: Treville and Miss Emma at home: Mrs. E. W. Gardner, of Blanchard, and Mrs. Irvin Kunes, residing in the south. The following children survive: Mrs. Frank Courter, Frank Smith, and Samuel Smith, all of Blanchard. The funeral was held Wednesday at the home of Frank Courter. Interment in the Baptist cemetery.

Senator Allison Dead.

United States Senator W. B. Allison died at his home in Dubuque, Iowa, Tuesday afternoon, the cause of his death being heart failure, superinduced by prostratic enlargement and kidney trouble. Senator Allison was born at Perry, O., March 2, 1829. His boyhood days were spent on a farm and his early education was secured in Allegheny college and in the Western Reserve college of Ohio. Mr. Allison has been a useful public official, having been a congressman from 1863 to 1871. In 1873 he was elected to the United States senate and served in that capacity until the time of his death. He declined the office of Secretary of the Treasury three times, it having been offered him by Presidents Garfield, Harrison and McKinley. He was a co-worker with many of the country's noted statesmen and served on many of the important senate committees.

The Wood Choppers Picnic.

The annual picnic of the State College camp of the Modern Woodmen of America, which was held at Hunters park on Saturday, was a successful affair in every respect. It was a holiday practically for the people of State College. The day was a very pleasant one for a picnic, the sun was bright and yet the day was not too warm. There was a large atteddance from State College and the surrounding community and not a few from Bellefonte took in the afternoon. There were amusements aplenty to entertain the people who attended and good music was furnished by the band. One of the attractions of the afternoon was the game of ball between Unionville and State College. Earle Kline, son of Sheriff Kline, did the pitching act for Unionville while Glenn did the State College twirling. The boys did some fast playing and the score ended 9-6 in favor of the State College team.

—Samuel P. Langdon, at one time president of the Altoona and Philipsburg railroad, was arrested in Philadelphia the other day on the charge of fraudulently obtaining a $250 dollar ring from a jeweler in Wilmington, Del.

Juniata Gentlemen in Town.

C. E Keller's large touring car from from Tyrone arrived in Bellefonte Thursday evening bearing nine members of the Rog-rs Fire company of Juniata. These gentlemen composed a committee of the members of the company who were delegated to purchase a team of horses for the use of the company. Part of Thursday was spent in State College and vicinity and the night was spent at the Garman house in this place. After taking in the sights about Bellefonte this morning and looking after the business on which they were sent they journeyed to Penns Cave where they took dinner. Whether or not they were successful in securing a team of horses we did not earn. After dinner at the cave and viewing that historic spot they returned to their homes.

The party was composed of the following: J. J. Barry, J. B. Forsht, C. A. James, S. I. Forsht, F. N. Dummin, L. C. Hoover, H. N. Walker, H. E. Norris, and W. N. Boyle.

Looking for Soldiers.

This paper has been requested to find out if possible what Union soldiers living in this part of the state participated in the battle of Dry Creek, near the famous White Sulphur summer resort. The Confederate soldiers who took part in that batile will hold a reunion there on August 26 and they are anxious that all Union soldiers who were in the battle attend, as well as other Union soldiers. The committee on arrangements has requested Congressman C. F. Barclay of Sinnamboning, Pa., and G. W. Huntley of Shroyock, West Va., formerly a resident of Driftwood, Pa., to get in touch with the Union soldiers who fought there and urge them to attend. The White Sulphur summer resort is on the edge of the battle field and makes the the accomodations good for anybody who wishes to attend.

Mason Camp Opens for Two Weeks.

The Masons camp opened Tuesday for two weeks and several have already gone down to make the full stay while others will go only for a few days and some will only want the fine chicken and waffle suppers that will be served on Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday evenings during the camp. Those intending to go down only on those evenings, will please telephone the camp on the Bell telephone and let them know how many will be down so that the proper preparation can be made, a couple of hours notice at least is asked.

It is expected that there will be an attendance of about forty of the members at various times during the two weeks of the camp and that with the motor boat, the swimming and fishing that a merry time will be in store for the campers.

Mrs. Katherine Henderson.

Mrs. Katherine Henderson, widow of the late Alexander Henderson, of Howard, died at the home of her daughter Mrs Jennie Lauth at that place Thursday, of a complication of diseases. Mrs. Henderson had been in ill health for several years. She was aged 84 years and 6 months and had been a resident of Howard for many years. She was a member of the Presbyterian church and was a woman who was well known and loved in the community in which she lived.

Surviving her are one daughter, Mrs. Jennie Lauth, widow of John Lauth, and two sons, Edward and William.

Funeral services was held Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock and interment made in the cemetery at Jacksonville.

Womer—Fox Nuptials.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Womer on East Beaver avenue State College was the scene of a happy event last Thursday night when their daughter, Mary Gertrude, became the bride of Maris W. Fox, a graduate in the mechanical engineering department of the Pennsylvania State College. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles C. Snavely, pastor of the M. E. church, at eight o'clock, in the presence of the contracting parties. Mr. and Mrs. Fox left on the eight o'clock train Friday morning for a tour of the eastern cities.—Times.

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION PROPOSED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

NUMBER ONE.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Philadelphia and Allegheny counties, and to give the General Assembly power to establish a separate court in Philadelphia county, with criminal and miscellaneous jurisdiction.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Assembly met, That the following amendments to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same are hereby, proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:—

That section six of article five be amended by striking out the said section and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 6. In the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the several numbered courts of common pleas, shall be vested in one court of common pleas in each of said counties, composed of all the judges in commission in said courts. Such jurisdiction and powers shall extend to all proceedings at law and in equity which shall have been instituted in the several numbered courts, and shall be subject to such changes as may be made by law, and subject to change of venue as provided by law. The president judge of each of the said courts shall be selected as provided by law. The number of judges in each of said courts may be, by law, increased from time to time. This amendment shall take effect on the first Monday of January succeeding its adoption.

Section 2. That article five, section eight, be amended by making an addition thereto so that the same shall read as follows:

Section 8. The said courts in the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny respectively shall, from time to time, in turn, detail one or more of their judges to hold the courts of oyer and terminer and the courts of quarter sessions of the peace of said counties, in such manner as may be directed by law: Provided, That in the county of Philadelphia the General Assembly shall have power to establish a separate court, consisting of not more than four judges, which shall have exclusive jurisdiction in criminal cases and in such other matters as may be provided by law.

NUMBER TWO.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, allowing counties, cities, boroughs, townships, school districts, or other municipal or incorporated districts, to increase their indebtedness.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That section eight, article nine, of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, reading as follows:—

"Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein; nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election, in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation," be amended, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article of said Constitution, so that said section, when amended, shall read as follows:—

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed ten per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein; nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election, in such manner as shall be provided by law.

NUMBER THREE.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing amendments to sections eight and twenty-one of article four, sections eleven and twelve of article five, sections two, three, and fourteen of article eight, section one of article twelve, and sections two and seven of article fourteen, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and providing a schedule for carrying the amendments into effect.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following are proposed as amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:—

Amendment One—To Article Four, Section Eight.

"He shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoint a Secretary of the Commonwealth and an Attorney General during pleasure, a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years, and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorized by the Constitution or by law to appoint; he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen, in offices to which he may appoint, during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session; he shall have power to fill any vacancy that may happen, during the recess of the Senate, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of Internal Affairs or Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill; if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a proper person to fill said vacancy; but in any such case of vacancy, in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to said office at the next general election, unless the vacancy shall happen within three calendar months immediately preceding such election, in which case the election for said office shall be held at the second succeeding general election. In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in confirming or rejecting the nominations of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and shall be entered on the journal," so as to read as follows:—

He shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoint a Secretary of the Commonwealth and an Attorney General during pleasure, a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years, and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorized by the Constitution or by law to appoint; he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen, in offices to which he may appoint, during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session; he shall have power to fill any vacancy that may happen, during the recess of the Senate, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of Internal Affairs or Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill; if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a proper person to fill said vacancy; but in any such case of vacancy, in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to said office on the next election day appropriate to such office, according to the provisions of this Constitution, unless the vacancy shall happen within two calendar months immediately preceding such election day, in which case the election for said office shall be held on the second succeeding election day appropriate to such office. In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in confirming or rejecting the nominations of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and shall be entered on the journal.

Amendment Two—To Article Four, Section Twenty-one.

Section 3. Amend section twenty-one of article four, which reads as follows:—

"The term of the Secretary of Internal Affairs shall be four years; of the Auditor General three years; and of the State Treasurer two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections. No person elected to the office of Auditor General or State Treasurer shall be capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms," so as to read:—

The terms of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Auditor General, and the State Treasurer shall each be four years; and they shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections; but a State Treasurer, elected in the year one thousand nine hundred and nine, shall serve for three years, and his successors shall be elected at the general election in the year one thousand nine hundred and twelve, and in every fourth year thereafter. No person elected to the office of Auditor General or State Treasurer shall be capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms.

Amendment Three—To Article Five, Section Eleven.

"Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, justices of the peace or aldermen shall be elected in the several wards, districts, boroughs and townships at the time of the election of constables, by the qualified electors thereof, in such manner as shall be directed by law, and shall be commissioned by the Governor for a term of five years. No township, ward, district or borough shall elect more than two justices of the peace or aldermen without the consent of a majority of the qualified electors within such township, ward or borough; no person shall be elected to such office unless he shall have resided within the township, borough, ward or district for one year next preceding his election. In cities containing over fifty thousand inhabitants, not more than one alderman shall be elected in each ward or district," so as to read:—

Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, justices of the peace or aldermen shall be elected in the several wards, districts, boroughs or townships, by the qualified electors thereof, at the municipal election, in such manner as shall be directed by law, and shall be commissioned by the Governor for a term of six years. No township, ward, district or borough shall elect more than two justices of the peace or aldermen without the consent of a majority of the qualified electors within such township, ward or borough; no person shall be elected to such office unless he shall have resided within the township, borough, ward or district for one year next preceding his election. In cities containing over fifty thousand inhabitants, not more than one alderman shall be elected in each ward or district.

Amendment Four—To Article Five, Section Twelve.

"In Philadelphia there shall be established, for each thirty thousand inhabitants, one court, not of record, of police and civil causes, with jurisdiction not exceeding one hundred dollars; such courts shall be held by magistrates whose term of office shall be five years, and they shall be elected on general ticket by the qualified voters at large; and in the election of the said magistrates no voter shall vote for more than two-thirds of the number of persons to be elected when more than one are to be chosen; they shall be compensated only by fixed salaries, to be paid by said county; and shall exercise such jurisdiction, civil and criminal, except as herein provided, as is now exercised by aldermen, subject to such changes, not involving an increase of civil jurisdiction or conferring political duties, as may be made by law. In Philadelphia the office of alderman is abolished," so as to read as follows:—

In Philadelphia there shall be established, for each thirty thousand inhabitants, one court, not of record, of police and civil causes, with jurisdiction not exceeding one hundred dollars; such courts shall be held by magistrates whose term of office shall be six years, and they shall be elected on general ticket at the municipal election, by the qualified voters at large; and in the election of the said magistrates no voter shall vote for more than two-thirds of the number of persons to be elected when more than one are to be chosen; they shall be compensated only by fixed salaries, to be paid by said county; and shall exercise such jurisdiction, civil and criminal, except as herein provided, as is now exercised by aldermen, subject to such changes, not involving an increase of civil jurisdiction or conferring political duties, as may be made by law. In Philadelphia the office of alderman is abolished.

Amendment Five—To Article Eight, Section Two.

Section 6. Amend section two of article eight, which reads as follows:—

"The general election shall be held annually on the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto," so as to read:—

The general election shall be held biennially on the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each even-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such election shall always be held in an even-numbered year.

Amendment Six—To Article Eight, Section Three.

Section 7. Amend section three of article eight, which reads as follows:—

"All elections for city, ward, borough and township officers, for regular terms of service, shall be held on the third Tuesday of February," so as to read:—

All judges elected by the electors of the State at large may be elected at either a general or municipal election, as circumstances may require. All elections for judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and for county, city, ward, borough, and township officers, for regular terms of service, shall be held on the municipal election day; namely, the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each odd-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such election shall always be held in an odd-numbered year.

Amendment Seven—To Article Eight, Section Fourteen.

"District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen annually by the citizens. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector, and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony, or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service," so as to read:—

District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen biennially, by the citizens at the municipal election; but the General Assembly may require said boards to be appointed in such manner as it may by law provide. Laws regulating the appointment of said boards may be enacted to apply to cities only: Provided, That such laws be uniform for cities of the same class. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector, and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record, or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony, or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service.

Amendment Eight—To Article Twelve, Section One.

"All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law," so as to read:—

All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law: Provided, That elections of State officers shall be held on a general election day, and elections of local officers shall be held on a municipal election day, except when, in either case, special elections may be required to fill unexpired terms.

Amendment Nine—To Article Fourteen, Section Two.

Section 10. Amend section two of article fourteen, which reads as follows:—

"County officers shall be elected at the general elections and shall hold their offices for the term of three years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for, shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law," so as to read:—

County officers shall be elected at the municipal elections and shall hold their offices for the term of four years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for, shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law.

Amendment Ten—To Article Fourteen, Section Seven.

Section 11. Amend section seven, article fourteen, which reads as follows:—

"Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five and every third year thereafter; and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled, by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy shall occur, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled," so as to read:—

Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen, in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven and every fourth year thereafter; and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled, by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy shall occur, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled.

Schedule for the Amendments.

Section 12. That no inconvenience may arise from the changes in the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and in order to carry the same into complete operation, it is hereby declared, that—

In the case of officers elected by the people, all terms of office fixed by act of Assembly at an odd number of years shall each be lengthened one year, but the Legislature may change the length of the term, provided the terms for which such officers are elected shall always be for an even number of years.

The above extension of official terms shall not affect officers elected at the general election of one thousand nine hundred and eight; nor any city, ward, borough, township, or election division officers, whose terms of office, under existing law, end in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

In the year one thousand nine hundred and ten the municipal election shall be held on the third Tuesday of February, as heretofore; but all officers chosen at that election to an office the regular term of which is two years, and also all election officers and assessors chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven. All officers chosen at that election to offices the term of which is now four years, or is made four years by the operation of these amendments or this schedule, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen. All justices of the peace, magistrates, and aldermen, chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen. After the year nineteen hundred and ten, and until the Legislature shall otherwise provide, all terms of city, ward, borough, township, and election district officers shall begin on the first Monday of December in an odd-numbered year.

All city, ward, borough, and township officers holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of December of that year.

All judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and also all county officers, holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of January, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weaknesses and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Hunting a House

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Wilson jangled the big bunch of keys as he inserted one of the number into the lock of a door on a large empty house, turned the key and threw the door open.

"Step in, Miss House Hunter For Another," he exclaimed, with a magnificent wave of his hand.

Dorothy White laughed as she entered.

"I only hope Bertha likes the house we pick out for her," she replied. "Bertha's the first prospective bride I ever knew that couldn't find time to go house hunting herself. And Jo is just as bad. It's a wonder to me they ever found time enough to decide to get married."

"While we," assented Wilson, "not only have time enough to investigate innumerable dwellings for them, but also have so much leisure that we could get married several times if we cared to."

"Which we don't," the girl promptly cried. "I'm going to be a bachelor girl," she added, with a certain air of defiance.

Wilson laughed.

"What," he cried, "a bach for girl? And with those rose petal cheeks and those twinkling eyes and"—

"You mustn't say those things," Dorothy, blushing prettily, stopped him.

"It's a cousin's privilege," declared Wilson.

"But you're only a third cousin."

"That's a good enough excuse," declared Wilson and continued as though he had not been interrupted, "and with those lips—those kissable lips!"

He advanced toward her.

"I've heard something more about cousins' privileges," he exclaimed.

The girl made a quick retreat across the length of the big room in which they were standing to the big bay window that overlooked the porch.

"This house seems almost too big," she exclaimed hurriedly. "It would take a lot of furniture to make it seem cheerful and a lot of people, too, I think. I"—

"I guess you don't like your little cousin," sadly murmured Wilson from his post across the room.

"Oh, pshaw, of course I do!" Dorothy exclaimed, laughing and blushing. "Don't be a goose!" She hurried on:

"I'm sure Bertha and Jo wouldn't care for this place. Let's try another house."

"Plenty more to try," declared Wilson. "I've got the keys here for about a million and a half." And he jangled the keys again.

They left the big house, with its big rooms, big bay window and big veranda, and turned away. Wilson consulted a list which he had in his pocket and then directed their steps into a quiet, pretty, little side street where the houses were mainly cottages with miniature gardens and lawns in front and where a general air of homely coziness and comfort seem to prevail.

In the middle of one of the squares stood an especially attractive little home, with a tiny veranda and a tree or two in the front yard. The house seemed to have a saucy air, as though it were saying to every one: "I'm all nice and cozy. Don't you wish you were as comfortable as I am?"

The girl clapped her hands when she saw it.

"Oh, what a dear little house!" she cried. "Oh, I just love it!"

"It's one of those I've got a key for, too," said Wilson.

The girl clapped her hands again and, opening the gate, ran up the little path to the veranda, where, shading her face with her hands, she peered into the interior.

"THERE'S ONLY ONE THING TO DO NOW."

"It's just a dear!" she cried again as Wilson opened the door and she ran in.

From room to room she darted breathlessly; then, the inspection finished, she sat down on the third step of the stairs which ran from the hall to the second story.

"It's just the thing for Bertha and Jo!" she cried at last. "I know just how they can arrange everything. The front room they'll have fixed up nice and livable. Jo will have a big easy chair there by the window, where he can smoke and read in the evening, and the piano will be opposite the window, with its side to the wall, so that Bertha can play and yet see Jo while he smokes. And then that open fire—think how cozy it will be for them in the winter!"

"Yes, that would be all right for some couples," said Wilson, "but honestly, Dorothy, do you think that Jo and Bertha with all their money would be content to begin life in a humble cottage like this, in the humble way you suggest?"

"Why, Harry, of course they will!" the girl exclaimed in a hurt tone. "When they see what a dear house it is they'll just fall in love with it, as I have."

"Maybe," said Wilson dubiously, "but it strikes me that it would be more suited to—well, say, for example, a couple like us—if we were married. The rent of this house can't be much, and I haven't got much money. You're in love with the house, and I'm in love with—it too. Now"—

"Goodness!" she exclaimed. "We'll have to hurry if we're going to investigate all those other houses!"

Somewhat sulkily Wilson locked the door of the little house. But he and the girl visited no more houses that afternoon, for Wilson very suddenly became converted to the idea that Bertha and Jo would be charmed by the little house, and nothing would do but he must see the real estate agent and secure an option on it. The girl demurred at this at first, but Wilson finally convinced her that Bertha and Jo would be mightily pleased at their action in securing such a desirable home for them.

The real estate dealer's office was finally found and the option secured. Then the couple started on their journey to Bertha's home, where they would acquaint her with what they had done.

"They'll be very happy there," said Dorothy somewhat wistfully as they left the office.

"Sure they will," assented Wilson. "Any one could be happy in a little house like that."

For some reason Wilson's mood had become rather joyous. He solicitously took Dorothy's arm and skillfully guided her through the crowds. It was becoming dusk, and the street lights were not yet out. They turned into a side street on a short cut to Bertha's home, which was a big, ornate affair. It looked blatant and uncomfortable. The little house from which Dorothy and Wilson had come by the comparison to them seemed much more desirable.

Bertha had not yet arrived when they entered, but a moment after they had seated themselves in the drawing room she flew in. As usual, she seemed very busy and was in a tremendous hurry.

"Oh, I'm so glad you came, people!" Bertha exclaimed. "I won't have to put you people to any more trouble trying to find a house for us. Jo and I managed to find time to look at one this afternoon. It is a nice big one, has large rooms and a big bay window, and we're just delighted to get it. The agent said you had been looking at it. Wait a minute until I take off my wraps."

She left the room. The two young people she had left looked at each other.

"And you've signed the option!" exclaimed Dorothy.

"Yes," said Wilson, suppressed and eager. "There's only one thing to do now."

"What's that?" asked the girl shyly, and with averted face.

"Take the house ourselves."

When Bertha came to the door of the room a moment later she did not enter, as she had intended. She gave one look, saw Dorothy and Wilson standing in the middle of the room very close together, and then she fled. As she fled, though, she heard ... say somewhat tremulously:

"Don't blush so, dear. It's a cousin's privilege, you know."

A Surprise Coming.

A horse was standing along Chestnut street the other day anchored by an iron weight. The horse, not knowing what else to do to pass away the time, was industriously chewing the strap. A newsboy happened along, and after watching the animal for awhile he grinned a cluster of grins and turned to a man who was standing near.

"Don't say a word," he gleefully remarked. "Old Umpire here is going to have the surprise of his life in a few minutes."

"What is the matter with him?" asked the man, glancing first at the kid and then at the horse.

"Nothin' is the matter with him," was the happy rejoinder of the newsboy. "He may eat the strap all right, but when he gets down to that weight he will think he has struck a boardin' house."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

The Pigs of Brittany.

"Brittany is all right," the traveled man said cautiously, "but beware of the pigs there. The Breton pig is not fat and indolent like ours. He is as lean and fiery as a wolf and twice a wolf's size. All over Brittany you see him, swaggering up and down the white roads in search of roots, berries, frogs, anything—for he must forage for himself. His master never feeds him. Step out of his way, or he will snort and leap at you.

"The Bretons are great drunkards. Sometimes they fall asleep beside the road. They awake with a sharp pain in the arm or leg, the pain of a hungry pig's teeth."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

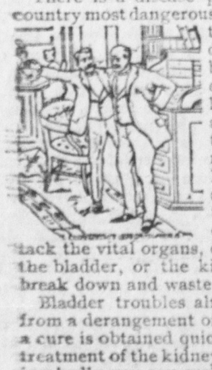
The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.



There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

A Woman's Health

Is a heritage too sacred to be experimented with. For her peculiar and delicate ailments only medicines of known composition and which contain no alcohol, narcotics, or other harmful or habit-forming drugs should be employed. The one medicine which fulfills all these requirements is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy with a record of over forty years of cures to recommend it; a remedy, the makers of which print its formula on every bottle-wrapper and attest its completeness and correctness under oath; a remedy devised and adapted to woman's delicate constitution by an educated physician—an experienced specialist in woman's diseases; a remedy, every ingredient of which has received the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar diseases; a remedy which has more bona-fide cures to its credit than any other sold by druggists for woman's special requirements. It is not given away in the form of "trial bottles" to be experimented with, but is sold at a fair price by all dealers in medicines.

Delicate, weak, nervous women should especially shun the use of alcoholic medicines which, from their stimulating and exhilerating effects may seem, for a time, to do good, but which from the inevitable effects of the alcohol in shrinking up the red corpuscles of the blood are sure to do great and lasting harm in the long run. Besides they beget a craving for stimulants which is most deplorable.

Only invigorating and nerve strengthening effects can follow the use of this famous medicine for women. It can not possibly do harm in any state or condition of the system. It has been carefully adapted to woman's needs by an experienced physician—a specialist in their diseases. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

If a woman has bearing down, or dragging pains, low down in the abdomen, or pelvis, backache, frequent headaches, dizzy or fainting spells, is nervous and easily startled, has gnawing feeling in stomach, sees imaginary floating specks, or spots before her eyes, has melancholia, or "blues," or a weakening disagreeable drain from pelvic organs, she can make no mistake by resorting to the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will invigorate and tone up the whole system and especially the pelvic organs.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Perscription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic, "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For over-worked, "worn-out," run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

No woman suffering from any of the above symptoms can afford to accept any secret nostrum or medicine of unknown composition, as a substitute for a medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is OF KNOWN COMPOSITION and has a record of over forty years of cures and sells more largely to-day than ever before. Its makers withhold no secrets from their patients, believing open publicity to be the very best guaranty of merit.

Dr. Pierce invites all suffering women to consult him by letter free of charge. All letters of consultation are held as strictly private and sacredly confidential and all answers are returned in plain, sealed envelopes. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." They are the original Little Liver Pills first put up by old Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. They are tiny sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

STATE POLICE STOP RIOT

Italians and Slavs Engage in Free for all Shooting Affray.

BULLETS FLEW THICK

Pay Day in the Coke Regions and Jollification Leads to a Race War Between Foreign Laborers

STATE POLICE ROUNDED THEM UP

Uniontown, Pa. Aug, 3—In a pitched battle between Italians and Slavs at Gates, one of the H. C. Frick Coke company plants near Masontown, Saturday night, one man was killed, two were probably mortally wounded, while a score of others were injured. The dead man, Antillo Ronco, an Italian, was shot through the heart and died instantly.

Saturday was pay day at the Frick plant. The men began drinking and by nightfall were in an ugly mood. For months there has been feeling between the Italians and the Slavs.

The warring factions got beyond control of the authorities and became involved in a riot. Jacob Furance, leader of the Italian faction, went to a Slav boarding house and defied its 25 inmates. In a few minutes Furance ond Alex Molanski were battling, when Antollo Ronco, another Italian, went to the assistance of the former and this was the signal for a general fight. Antillo Ronco was the first man to fall, with four bullets in his body. On the spot where Ronco died was found a 38-caliber revolver, containing four empty shells and a loaded one.

Ronco's death is said to have been caused by a misdirected shot fired by Furance, to whose assistance he had gone. John Furance was the next man to fall, shot by one of the Slavs. Two bullets punctured his abdomen and he was carried away by his Italian companions. Alex Ronco was the last man to receive a serious injury and he was also carried iaway. The most serious wounds were received by Italians.

As soon as the fight began the state police in the district were notified and began to make wholesale arrests. Nineteen of the rioters were marched over the hill to Masontown and packed into the little borough lockup. Hundreds followed the prisoners and threatened to tear down the building. The chief burgess of the town swore in deputies, who guarded the jail all night.

The entire crowd was brought into Uniontown and lodged in jail.

Their Happiness Marred.

Information was sent to the police station, in this city from Madisonburg to arrest and detain as runaways a young farmer, 28 years of age and a girl of about 18 years, both of that place. Night Sergeant Pete Vanatta received a complete description by telephone of the couple, who had decided to seek some Gretna Green and become man and wife, but alas, the cops were waiting and cupid was held up for a time at least.

All the night officers were directed to be on the lookout for them, and they had not been in the city 10 minutes until Patrolmen Mack and Beck obeerved them leisurely walking down Bellefonte avenue. After the officers followed for some distance, they decided to take charge of the infatuated pair, who were quite surprised when learned that they were under arrest. As the "offense" was not of a serious nature they were not placed in jail, but detained elsewhere until the arrival of the father of the girl this morning. The parent decided to again take his daughter to his own fireside, at least for the present.

When the officers arrested the couple they stated that they left home about 11 o'clock Friday morning, walking the entire distance of about 25 miles to this city, only to have their happiness brought to such an abrupt ending.—Lock Haven Express.

Looking for a Site.

Adam Bucher, of Altoona, was in town this week looking up a site for a planing mill. Mr. Bucher was driven over town and was favorably impressed, stating that the possibilities of the town were great. The mill will probably be located in the upper end of town and if built will be kept busy. The location of a mill at this place will reduce the cost of lumber to local contractors who are now obliged to obtain the finished product at distant points.—State College Times.

The Facts Plainly Stated

No other than a Methodist Sunday school can be organized in a Methodist Episcopal church. Its rules explicitly forbid. See book of discipline, page 214. The M. E. officials in Coleville closing their church against our Olive Branch Bible School have done strictly according to those rules. The Coleville band have kindly given us the use of their hall, the old school building, where 30 or more little children, not to speak of older persons, have to sit upon rough boards, etc.

That room we could not use in cold weather so that the four or five religious denominations represented in our Bible School there have no other alternative than the construction of an Olive Branch chapel where all without distinction in our suburban village can meet together for the worship of God and "for instruction in righteousness." In close connection there are other facts that I will not give unless called for. "Let bygones be bygones." With the lot, stone and lime generously donated by the American Lime and Stone Company, men in Coleville have finished the foundation walls. Other men there, not a few, as well as women and children are contributing by work and money what they can for this worthy object. Foreign missions are all right, but the gospel enjoins, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thy self." Opportunity is now given us to observe this "the first and great commandment" for the furtherance of Home Missions. The two first Bellefonte offerings have been handed to me without solicitation. "Now in the accepted time" for more to follow is a time of urgent need.

A Sustaining Diet

These are the enervating days, when as somebody has said, men drop by the sunstroke as if the Day of Fire had dawned. They are fraught with danger to people whose systems are poorly sustained; and this leads us to say, in the interest of the less robust of our readers, tha the full effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla is such as to suggest the propriety of calling this medicine something besides a blood purifier and tonic,—say, a sustaining diet. It makes it much easier to bear the heat, assures refreshing sleep, and will without any doubt avert much sickness at the time of year.

The Situation is Looked Upon as Being Very Grave and the Outcome of the Difficulty is Feared

COMMITTEEMEN WERE DISAPPOINTED

Scranton, Pa., August 1.—President Truesdale yesterday refused the switchmen's request for a conference on the troubles on the Buffalo division of the Delaware, Lackawana and Western railroad. Grand Master Hawley, of the Switchmen's union, said this afternoon that a strike declaration seems inevitable.

After receiving President Truesdale's refusal, the grievance board went into executive session to discuss the prospects of bringing in outside influences to avert a strike. This is the first time President Truesdale has refused to meet a committee of the road employes, and his answer has cast a gloom over the committeemen who were confident that he would meet with them and listen to their side of the dispute.

Grand Master Hawley states that one of the last resorts of the men has been exhausted and that only outside interests can intervene to prevent trouble. What those interests are he refuses to say, but the impression here is that they involve the engineers, firemen and trainmen, the executive board of the firemen's union already being here to take up questions with General Superintendent Clarke next week.

If a strike is called its centre will be in Buffalo, where the present trouble originated over the discharge of two men. John Cannon, the member of the grievance committee from that city, stated today that all the railroads running into Buffalo will be affected as well as the various grain lines over the lakes. All the freight handlers on the docks are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and it is said that they would go out in sympathy with the switchmen, if necessary.

Fire at Lockport.

The residents on the Lockport side of the river at Lock Haven had a fire scare about 1 30 o'clock Thursday morning. Paul Beinlich, who lives near the old Smith hotel property was awakened at the above mentioned time by his dog and at once thought something must be wrong and he began an investigation. He soon discovered that the large three story frame building was on fire and at once aroused the families living in it, about twenty-one persons in all. He then ran to the Widman brewery and the watchman blew the whistle as an alarm. A bucket brigade was formed and the flames which were yet confined to one room, extinguished. The building was owned by Mr. Widman and the room where the fire originated was used as a paint and storage room. About $55 worth in the room was destroyed.

Champion Snake Story.

Joe Rodgers and William Landau, two well known residents of the West End, are responsible for the best snake story of the summer. The men were engaged in picking huckleberries Saturday afternoon when they espied a large blacksnake in the act of devouring a large frog along the edge of a creek back of the park. Picking up clubs the men rescued the frog and then killed the snake.

They paid but little attention to the incident until they were almost home when they discovered that the frog had followed them three miles. How's that?—Shamokin Dispatch.

Schenck Reunion.

The biennial reunion of the Schenck family will be held at the usual place on the ridge about a mile east of Howard on Thursday September 3. Arrangements are now being made for the amusements and a speaker, and other features of the reunion. All persons whether members of the family or not are cordially invited to join them on this day and share in the pleasures.

flaupt's Flat About Completed

The modern fire-proof building which is being erected on North Thomas street by G. E. Haupt is about completed and will be ready for tenants by August 15.

The first floor of the building consists of two store rooms, each 14x24 feet and have concrete floors. On the second floor are two sets of flats for dwellings four and five rooms to each department, with bath and modern conveniences. The floors in the apartments are hard wood and they are finished in cherry, oak and chestnut.

The third floor consists of two sets of flats for dwellings, with four and five rooms to each, and have bath and all modern conveniences. This floor has the advantage of our Bellefonte hills, there being a large concrete porch leading out to the back yard which makes the third floor practically on the level.

The roof is made of reinforced cement which makes the building fireproof, and the blocks in the building are made with a water proof material, which makes the building damp-proof, as well as frost-proof and fire-proof.

The flats will rent for $7, $8, $9 and $10 per month, and the basement rooms will rent for $5 per month.

Mr. Haupt was himself the designer of the building as well as being the builder, and did most of the work himself. The structure stands as a testimony of Mr. Haupt's idea of modern construction and his ability to do this kind of work, which is now of great concern in modern fire-proof building.

Falling Scaffold Injured Three.

Three men employed by the Wallace Brothers brick contractors, who are building the ladies cottage at State College, were badly injured at that place Thursday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock when the scaffold on which they were working gave way. It is not known what caused the scaffolding to fall as there were only about thirty five brick up at the time, and the three men. When the scaffold gave way the men were precipitated to the ground some distance below and the few bricks and other loose things came reigning down upon them. The injured men were.

Ross Wallace, of Milesburg who had two ribs fractured and was otherwise bruised.

Brint Wallace of Bellefonte had his face and hands badly cut and bruised.

Carl Wallace, a son of L. L. Wallace, of this place had his head cut, an ankle sprained and his shoulder badly bruised.

The injured men were brought to Bellefonte and taken to their homes. A report from them this morning stated that all were getting along nicely although they were all badly injured.

Bank for Howard.

It is now evident that the long-hoped-for bank at Howard will soon materialize. The question of a bank at that thriving borough has been discussed for many years and during the past two weeks the outlook has become more encouraging. Matthew Rodgers, of Mexico, Pa., has been there looking after the stock subscriptions and it is thought that enough local capital can be secured to capitalize the institution, which at the organization will be $25,000. This is practically all subscribed at present and the organization will take place soon. It is not known where the bank will be located as yet but the promoters have several sites in view. It will be called "The First National Bank of Howard." It is the belief of all interested that an institution of this kind will be a paying investment at Howard, but it took considerable work to get the movement under way, and when the doors of the bank are opened for business it will be another mark of the advancement of that prosperous town.

Veteran Club Picnic

At the meeting of the Centre County Veteran club in the office of W. H. Musser on Saturday it was decided to hold the next annual picnic on Saturday, September 12, at the Centre county fair grounds. Besides being a runion of the old soldiers it will be a basket picnic. Coffee will be provided on the grounds for all the soldiers and their families free of charge. Prominent speakers will be present to address the assemblage and several bands will be there to enliven the occasion with their music. In the event of rainy weather the court house will be secured as a place of meeting. Everybody is invited to meet with the veterans on this day and enjoy the pleasures of the outing.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—The price of eggs is on the ascending scale again.

—The oats harvest has already commenced in many parts of county.

—Along with the abundance of other fruits there is going to be a good crop of grapes.

—The Catholics of Snow Shoe will hold their annual picnic at that place on Thursday, August 20th.

—The next legal holiday will be Labor Day, Monday September 7th but the biggest holiday in this section will be the Business Men's picnic on August 18th.

—The farmers are receiving fair prices for their produce in the markets and there appears to be a demand for all that the tillers of the soil are able to produce.

—Mrs. Sophia Stover of Unionville, mother of Mrs. Fall Stover of this place, is seriously ill, and owing to the fact that she is eighty-five years of age her recovery is regarded as very doubtful.

—Miss Catherine Curtin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Curtin, entertained a few of her friends at a three table bridge party at her home at Curtin, in honor of Miss Mary Churchill, of Roanoke, Va.

—Thursday morning Governor Stuart approved the application for a charter for the Belleville and Reedsville railroad company which will build a line ten miles long to connect those two Mifflin county towns. The company is capitalized at $100,000.

—The hotel Signor at Elkland, Pa., was robbed Wednesday night and about seventy dollars in cash taken. A. M. Reeser former proprietor of the Musser house at Millheim, is now the proprietor at the hotel Signor. The thief gained entrance through a door which Mr. Reeser had failed to bolt.

—Rev. J. Allison Platts, pastor of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church, will take his annual vacation during the month of August. He has engaged several noted ministers to fill the pulpit for three Sundays during the month, while on the other two the pulpit will be vacant.

—Mrs. J. E. Ward and Mrs. J. C. Meyer Thursday entertained about forty of their friends with a porch party at the home of the latter on Curtin street. The decorations consisted of potted plants golden rod, ferns and daisies making the whole a most delightful scene.

—Four evangelists of the Israelite House of David, which has headquarters at Benton Harbor, Mich., were in town Wednesday evening and held services on the diamond. A large number of people were attracted by their devotions. The members of the little band were very zealous workers for the cause they represented and their audience listened with rapt attention.

—Beginning with August 1, all Pennsylvania railroad pensioners will carry annual passes. The popular bits of cardboard entitle the pensioner and his wife to travel over the division on which he worked without the necessity of making an application for a trip pass. The men benefitted are trackmen, shopmen, yardmen and switchmen. The pensioners have the privilege of naming over which division they desire the pass to be made good.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Rachau, widow of the late John Rachau, died Wednesday, July 29, at her home about three miles west of Madisonburg, of a complication of diseases. She was aged 79 years. The deceased was the mother of eighteen children, eighth of whom are still living. Funeral services will be held Saturday and interment will be made at Madisonburg. Rev. A. A. Snyder will conduct the services and will be assisted by Rev. Haney.

—A lady went into one of the Bellefonte clothing stores the other day to purchase a pair of trousers for yer 5-year-old boy, which cost a very small sum. The lady handed the clerk a five-dollar bill in payment for them, and when the man behind the counter went to the drawer he found that it would take all his small change to cash the bill, so he asked the lady if that was the smallest she had. "No," she replied, "I have a five-months-old baby at home.

—The Coleville band gave a concert at the Bush House on Wednesday evening and also at the diamond. The people appreciated the excellent music very much and it is hoped that the band may be encouraged in its efforts to give these weekly concerts as they now propose doing. The business men and citizens should contribute liberally to an institution of this kind in order insure a continuance of the band concerts and maintain the good standard of this band.

—The business men of State College have formed an organization for mutual protection.

—Some one wants to know if it is proper for an old maid to wear a Merry Widow hat.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Mignot of East High street are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy.

—Word has been received that Miss Mary Thomas, of this place, is seriously ill in a Pittsburg hospital suffering with blood poison.

—Rev. Samuel Martin, who is now located at Windber, has accepted a call to the Presbyterian church at State College. He will take up his work at the new pastorate in September.

—A meeting of the Centre County Veteran club was held Saturday in the office of Squire W. H. Musser for the purpose of making arrangements for the annual veteran club reunion.

—The members of the Rogers Fire company of Juniata who were in town Friday in a large touring car, purchased the handseme team from Roland Miller at Coleville for the sum of $525.

—The Bigler campmeeting will be held this year beginning August 2nd and continuing until 31st. The buildings on the grounds have been rebuilt, and excursion are being arranged over the different railroads.

—The candidates for the more important of the county offices are now getting busy and the unusually large number of family reunions is affording them an excellent means of interviewing their friends on the important matter of getting out the vote.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Shoemaker, of Sabula Clearfield county, will be 102 years old on Sunday and her friends have arranged for the annual picnic which has been held near her home for the past two years and as her birthday falls on Sunday this year the picnic was held Saturday.

—Copies of Smull's legislative handbook for 1908 will be issued soon, according to present plans. The proofs are now being read on the last portion of the book. The book this year will contain handsome new pictures of the capitol and mansion, together with new photographs of the state officials.

—Col. and Mrs. J. L. Spangler and Judge and Mrs. Ellis L. Orvis, of Bellefonte, were prominent guests at the Baker house on Sunday. The two gentlemen are Centre county's leading citizens, prominent in financial and the political world. They were on an auto trip through the state.—Lewisburg Journal.

—It is a common belief among state soldiers that the families of the three men who were killed at Gettysburg camp by lightning are entitled to a pension from the commonwealth. Colonel Frank I. Rutledge, of the Eighteenth regiment, says the state has made no provisions for pensions. As a result of the death of the three guardsmen efforts will be made at the next session of the legislature to pass pension bills.

—All but a gap of about three miles of the four-tracking of the Pennsylvania railroad between Altoona and Harrisburg, is now completed. This stretch is between Newton Hamilton and Vineyard and it is expected that it will be ready for service some time during the month of September. This will give the company a complete four-track system the entire distance between Philadelphia and Pittsburg. This improvement was recommended by President Cassatt in one of his annual reports.

—Lewistown will be boomed in the near future if it lies in the power of the local merchants' association to do it. This move was determined upon at an enthusiastic meeting which was held Wednesday night in the court house at that place and which was attended by most of the members. Commitees were appointed to help the movement and John Cailston, a large building contractor of Philadelphia was also present and told the members of his plans to have a big nail and wire industry to locate there. The proposed plant will give work to several hundred men

—The month of July which is usually one of the driest of the year, came to the front this year and claimed the record for being the wettest month in a number of years. Weather Observer Henry F. Guise of Williamsport, has recorded a precipitation of 7.75 inches; inches; June of last year had a record 7.16 inches and was the record holder for a wetness for a few years. With an average annual precipitation of 36 inches a year for the last 13 years, it readily be seen where the present month stands. It has already produced more than one fourth the amount that fell in 1907.

—Dr. J. C. Kalbfus, state game commissioner has issued a warning to owners of automatic guns that the state would prosecute everyone found using one while hunting. "We will bring suit whenever we learn of a case," said he. "I do not care about the Delaware decision in favor of the guns because we have appealed that, and until a higher court passes on it we will enforce the law as it stands on the books." Dr. Kalbfus also states that the reports received from various sections of the state indicated that there was an abundance of game birds and that they were multiplying rapidly. Few cases of illegal shooting have been reported.

—The town of Hastings now has about sixty cases of typhoid fever and it is thought that more will develop.

—Sunday was a very cool and pleasant day and more conductive to church attendance than the past few Sabbaths have been.

—Dry weather has made the much used country roads very dusty and a discomfort to the persons who travel on the public highways.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of Coleville are rejoicing over the arrival of a bouncing baby boy which came to their home early Tuesday morning.

—A number of men who were employed making repairs at the Nittany furnace completed their work on Saturday and were laid off pending the starting of the furnace.

—The new reservoir for the Pennsylvania State College is almost completed and the mains are on the ground ready to be laid. It is expected to have the line ready for use shortly after the opening of the college.

—Two Americans and an Italian were killed by a premature explosion at the stone crushing plant of Charles Kehoe, near Hazleton on Monday. Thomas Kehoe, a son of the contracter, was injured about the head.

—We would infer from the following statement in his own paper that the editor of the Rafteman's Journal is getting reckless: 'Some one sent us a check for $2 near the 4th of July. It was mislaid and credit cannot be given."

—It is now claimed that pushing a lawn mower is not only healthful but that it gives grace and poise to young women. But the average young woman will continue to get her grace and poise from swinging in the hammock.

—The shirt factory has been shut down for a few days for the purpose of installing a gasoline engine, the management having decided to use that form of motive power instead of steam. The boiler which is now being used will remain where it is and will be used to heat the building.

—F. R. Buseler has resigned his position as superintendent for the Bellefonte Electric company, and the same has already taken effect. He will leave soon for Boston, Mass., where he has accepted another position. His place at the Bellefonte plant is being filled by C. G. MacAvoy, who came here for that purpose from Harrisburg.

—For some time the city of Williamsport has felt the need of a patrol wagon but it seemed that they were short of funds when the city wanted to buy it. To help matters along the mayor suggested that it be purchased by popular subscription and Hon. Elias Deemer, Republican candidate for congress, started the subscription with $100.

—Miss Mary E. Penny, of Snow Shoe, has been elected to fill the vacancy in the primary department of the State College schools occasioned by the resignation of Miss Acker, who was recently married. Miss Penny is thoroughly efficient in primary instruction and will doubtless fill the position satisfactorily in every particular.

—William and Marshall Foster, of State College, have been awarded prizes of $50 each by the publishers of the Saturday Evening Post for the largest increase in sales of any of their agents in the United States. The lads stood at the head of the list and it is owing to a slight technicality in conditions of the contest that lost them the capital prize of $250.

—The State College Times comes to our desk last week with a special edition, and consists of sixteen pages instead of eight, the usual size. The feature of this edition is an article on the famous Penns cave and is profusely illustrated with views of the beautiful scenery surrounding the cave. The work is very creditable to the management of that thriving paper.

—For the past week the Howard base ball team has been doing some strenuous practice work and had an experienced coach to get the boys in good condition for the balance of the season. On Friday they went to Orvis to do battle royal with the Mountaineers of that place and the time they spent in practice was telling as they put the cleaner on the Orvis boys and whitewashed them with four runs to their credit.

—Work has been resumed on the Pittsburg, Binghampton and Eastern railroad at Canton. On Tuesday a gang of 150 colored men arrived there from Georgia, and three carloads of mules with twenty-six carloads of construction aparatus arrived later. Work on the building of the road was begun at once. The contract for the construction of this piece of road was let by Gay & Co., the Boston bankers to Oliver Brothers, of Chattanooga, Tenna.

—Friday afternoon Street Commissioner Showers began repairs on the portion of South Spring street which was badly washed by the recent heavy rains. The street at this point had been in a bad condition for some time owing to the fact that the gutters were not deep enough to carry off the water and the middle of the street so that the water can be confined to the gutters. The work now being done will be a great improvement to that portion of the street.

—The boys and girls have only one month more of vacation days.

—A party of eighteen ladies and gentlemen from Creson passed through here on Monday on their way to camp at Hecla park.

—A Lock Haven merchant is advertising granulated sugar at 5¾ cents per pound. He must have gotten hold of some that is "not made by a trust."

—The members of the Hunter, Thomas, Bailey and Beamer families and descendents will hold a reunion and picnic at Agars park on Wednesday, August 19.

—A bouncing baby boy put in his appearance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mensch bright and early Wednesday morning to add to the happiness of the parents.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rhoades are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy, who made his appearance at their home on Sunday morning. Both mother and babe are getting along fine, while Harry wears a smile that can't be erased.

—A colored man with musical proclivities went about the streets Monday forenoon and endeavored to sing himself into the purses of the people of Bellefonte, and met with the success that usually falls to the lot of the itinerant musicians.

—The fact that the engineers are again at work in the neighborhood of Sandy Ridge, in connection with the building of the New York and Chicago Air Line, as well as other developments that have come to our attention, gives new encouragement to the people in this section who have been looking forward to the completion of this road.—Philipsburg Journal.

—The town of Conemaugh, which has a population of 5,000, is suffering a water famine and has appealed to the Pennsylvania state water commission to help solve its water problem. An epidemic of disease is feared and should fire break out there would be no way of preventing a conflagration. A water famine is one of the things that Bellefonte has to fear least.

—A number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Liggett of Beech Creek tendered them a pleasant surprise at their home on Tuesday of last week. The occasion was Mrs. Liggett's birthday but the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage which passed a short time ago was also celebrated. Mr. and Mrs. Liggett have resided in Beech Creek all their lives and they are two of the most highly respected persons living in that place.

—The anniversary number of La Bellefonte comes to our desk in an enlarged and neater condition than ever. It contains several interesting articles by the editor, Edmund Joseph, a paper by Harris Olewine and an interesting sketch of Centre county by Fred Kurtz. It also contains cuts of Mr. Kurtz, Harris Olewine and W. Harrison Walker, as well as a supplement consisting of a beautiful tinted half tone cut of the soldiers' and sailors' monument.

—Lock Haven firemen had another busy time Saturday night, having had two fires to fight. About 6 o'clock fire was discovered in the frame block owned by the R. S. Brown estate, and before it was extinguished the building was damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars. At 8:40 o'clock fire was discovered in the block owned by Scott Bros. and occupied by Fisburne's drug store. Quite a lot of damage was down to this building and the business places located in it.

—While out in the woods a few days ago, Samuel McCullough, a barber of West Pike, Potter county, fell over a log into some bushes, and before he could get to his feet he was bitten on the end of a finger by a rattlesnake. Realizing that something would have to be done quickly to keep the poison from circulating into his system he took out his revolver and shot off the end of the bitten finger. He then went to a physician and had it dressed and is getting along well.

—Chester Daughenbaugh, the young man who was seriously injured while walking along the railroad track at Howard, about a month ago was discharged from the Lock Haven hospital last week and has gone to his home near Howard. Mr. Daughenbaugh has recovered from his injury, but the effect of being struck on the head has left his one leg paralyzed. but it is thought he will soon recover from that condition as soon as the afflicted member is exercised by walking. It has never been learned how the accident happened to the young man.

—It is evident that the Daily News' ads are read at the Centre Democrat office. Last Saturday Montgomery and Co. advertised in the Daily that they would sell on that day any suit in the store, except blacks and blues, for $10. Sunday morning one of the distinguished employes in the office of our contemporary come over to the passenger station in a new suit of clothes, and as proud as a peacock, to get his Sunday paper. There is always a crowd at the depot at this time and soon all were smiling, as the joke man of the Democrat had forgotten to take off the reduction price tag and was displaying it conspicuously on the back of his coat. When he discovered the cause of their fun he had to admit that the joke was on him for once.

Additional Locals.

—At the meeting of the Mill Hall council Monday night W. J. Bauman, of Lock Haven asked for a franchise for putting in poles and wires for the purpose of furnishing electric lights to the borough.

—The street commissioner has made a good job of the repair work on South Spring street, between Bishop and Logan streets, but some one has made the suggestion that the work should be extended to High street, as there are places in that section where the centre of the street is lower than the gutters on either side.

—On Monday afternoon while Jacob Walk, of Sandy Ridge, in company with his father and two brothers, were gathering berries on the lands of Christ Sharrer near that place they encountered a large yellow rattlesnake. After killing it the men measured it and found it to be 4½ feet in length. It was evidently an old one as it had fifteen rattles and a button. The men also took the skin of the snake as a trophy of their encounter with the venomous reptile.

—The rain on Tuesday evening brought a relief from the excessive heat of the previous few days. All afternoon heavy banks of clouds passed by on either side but not until seven o'clock in the evening did we get any rain. The drouth had extended over a longer period than any other time during the summer and as a result vegetation was beginning to suffer. The rain greatly refreshed the growing crops, settled the dusty dust on the roads and will replenish the water in the streams.
